A black and white photograph of a group of seven young people, likely a sports team, posing outdoors. They are arranged in two rows. The back row consists of five people standing, and the front row has two people sitting or kneeling. They are dressed in casual attire, including sweaters, plaid shirts, and a sweatshirt with "TRANSPORT" and a winged logo. A handwritten "3" is visible in the bottom left corner.

LHS adds life

Flip through the 192 pages, then go back through them slowly. Remember Mr. Rice's jokes and Mr. Weaver's tests? That first speech in Mrs. Siefert's freshman speech class tested our nerves. For short people, it seemed like for four years they had a tall locker. At the beginning of school each year, cries of, "Somebody trade me lockers," and, "I wish I were tall," made themselves heard in the halls.

Where would we have been without the 1540 students, 91 faculty members, the clubs, and the teams that added life to Logansport High School at 1 Berry Lane?

In the five-year-old building, some found a sort of home away from home, staying after or coming in later for play practice, an art club meeting, practice on favorite teams, or to finish a page in the TATTLER the night before a deadline. Read on to see how each of you has added life to LHS.

1. Tiffany Roberts finds junior Kim Brown's lap a comfortable spot during an FCA meeting.
2. Reading before Mr. Fraza and Miss Shaw, sophomores Kelly Cox, Kathy Snider, and Joy Clowser try their hands as Oliver.
3. Several LHSers spent part of their summer at Young Life Camp in Colorado.
4. Senior Keith Delaplane teaches 4th graders at McKinley about the Teays, Logansport's underground river.
5. The Berryettes perfect their half-time routine.
6. Australian Rotary student Kim Wyers fills the hours with her guitar music.
7. Rube Band trumpeters, sophomore Brad Price and junior Kevin Anderson, perform at the Bonfire.

Summer

Logansport students, struggling to make their time well spent, discovered many ways to take advantage of three summer months without school.

On August 6, the Cass County fairgrounds, north of Logansport, came alive with the annual 4-H fair. The local county fair gave LHS 4-H members an opportunity to compete with other county youth with all kinds of projects and animal entries.

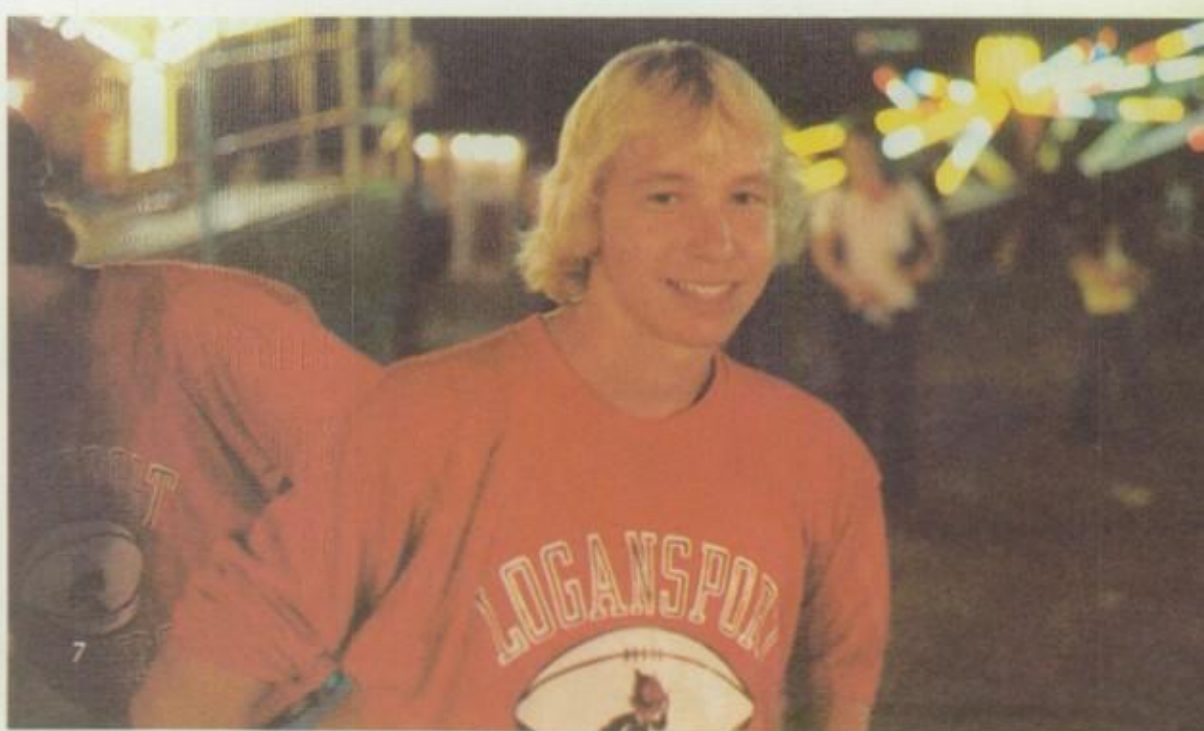

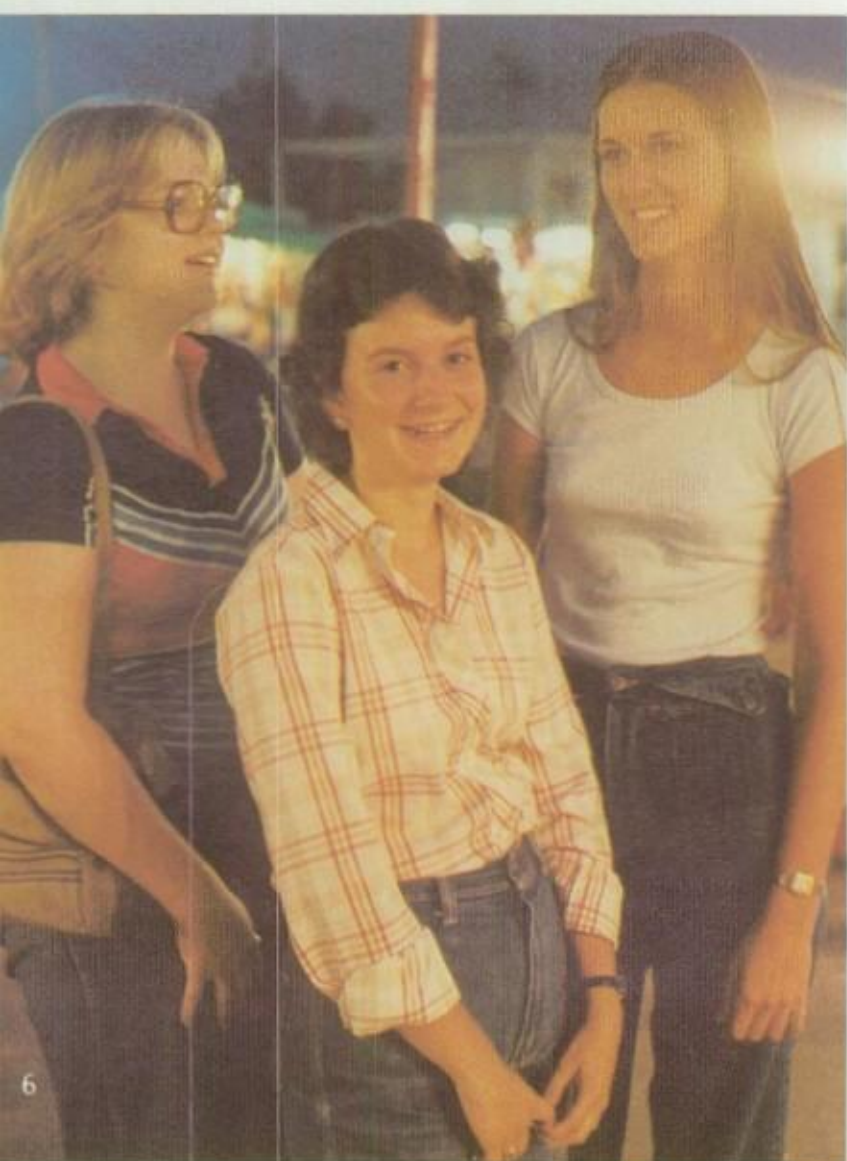

The fair also gave non-4-H Logan students the chance to get together and enjoy the midway, the food, and the displays. Many fairgoers found the Bullet, the cotton candy, and the elephant ears too good to pass by.

Others, who didn't make it to the fairgrounds, spent their time leisurely lying in the sun, playing tennis, jogging, roughing it in the "wild" outdoors, and just enjoying summer life in Logansport.

Summer includes fair-filled days

1. Junior Shane Walker attempts to pick up a prize.

2. Fright provoking, the Bullet

When students left school, they entered the atmosphere of home life, with parents expecting them to help around the house, take their little brother to basketball practice, and then start on homework. For some the day started as early as 6:30 at Thursday Morning Breakfast, or 7:10 for swing choir rehearsal, or maybe not until 8:35 with first period.

Homecoming sparks enthusiasm

Thanks to hours of planning by the Student Council, the 1978 homecoming activities continued in a successful tradition.

On Thursday night before homecoming, the annual bonfire warmed the chilly evening while senior Kevin Haines announced the five finalists for Homecoming queen. The powder-puff football game, an old custom, came back to Logansport with instant success. Students and teachers rolled with laughter when Mr. Harvey Roberts, the speaker, announced that senior Kelly Lowe broke a fingernail on the field, a serious injury. The senior girls ended up beating the juniors by a score of 18-12.

On Homecoming night, the Berries beat Fort Wayne Wayne winning 29-21 in their usual fourth-quarter comeback. At half-time senior Missy Parker received the Homecoming crown.

LHS students turned to religion more during the past year. One of the stronger Christian clubs included the Fellowship of Christian Athletes which met every other Sunday. The number of students attending meetings has more than tripled in the past few years. The FCA operated with three advisers, Mr. Jim Ridenour, Mr. John Vernon, and Mr. Jim Kinnaman.

FCA activities included a book sale, an FCA Overnight at Plank Park, and summer camp. The FCA placed their main emphasis on the meetings where they discussed and studied the Bible.

"I go to the meetings because I learn more about Christ," said sophomore Joe Walker.

Thursday morning Breakfast attracted many sleepy people at their 6:29 morning meetings. Students woke up by singing, putting on skits, playing games, and praying. The club sent a few members to a Young Life Camp in Colorado during the summer. The Thursday Morning Breakfast also sponsored the Coke House after the Homecoming game.

Visiting Logansport in September, the Good News Circle performed at Lincoln's gym. For two nights their music inspired the students and community members in attendance.

Christianity at LHS

Wanda,

We sure did show L.H.S. how to run a math club, didn't we? It's been real nice knowing you this year. Let's stay in touch. Call me sometime. Good luck in the future I know you can do anything when you put your mind to it.
Love, Lois Henry

1. Holding an FCA meeting for 60 members really wears you down, according to senior Amy Roberts.
2. Junior Alice Wolf enjoys the rustic setting at Young Life camp in Colorado.
3. Graduate Charles Henry returns to enjoy a 150 foot banana split at the Coke House.
4. Sophomore Dean Sherman drools over the huge banana split.

A time to remember

For twelve years, Logansport High School's Class of 1978 had waited for this day, but when it finally came many seemed to have been caught by surprise. During those last few days of chaos, caps and gowns in the traditional royal blue reminded them that the end rapidly approached.

On Sunday, May 21, they received that important piece of paper, the diploma. Approximately 340 seniors gathered in the Berry Bowl to give their final farewell.

After the Processional, Cheryl Regan gave the Invocation. Elizabeth Berkshire recited her essay, "Sometimes," followed by Mike Mandell with "Choose Something Like a Star."

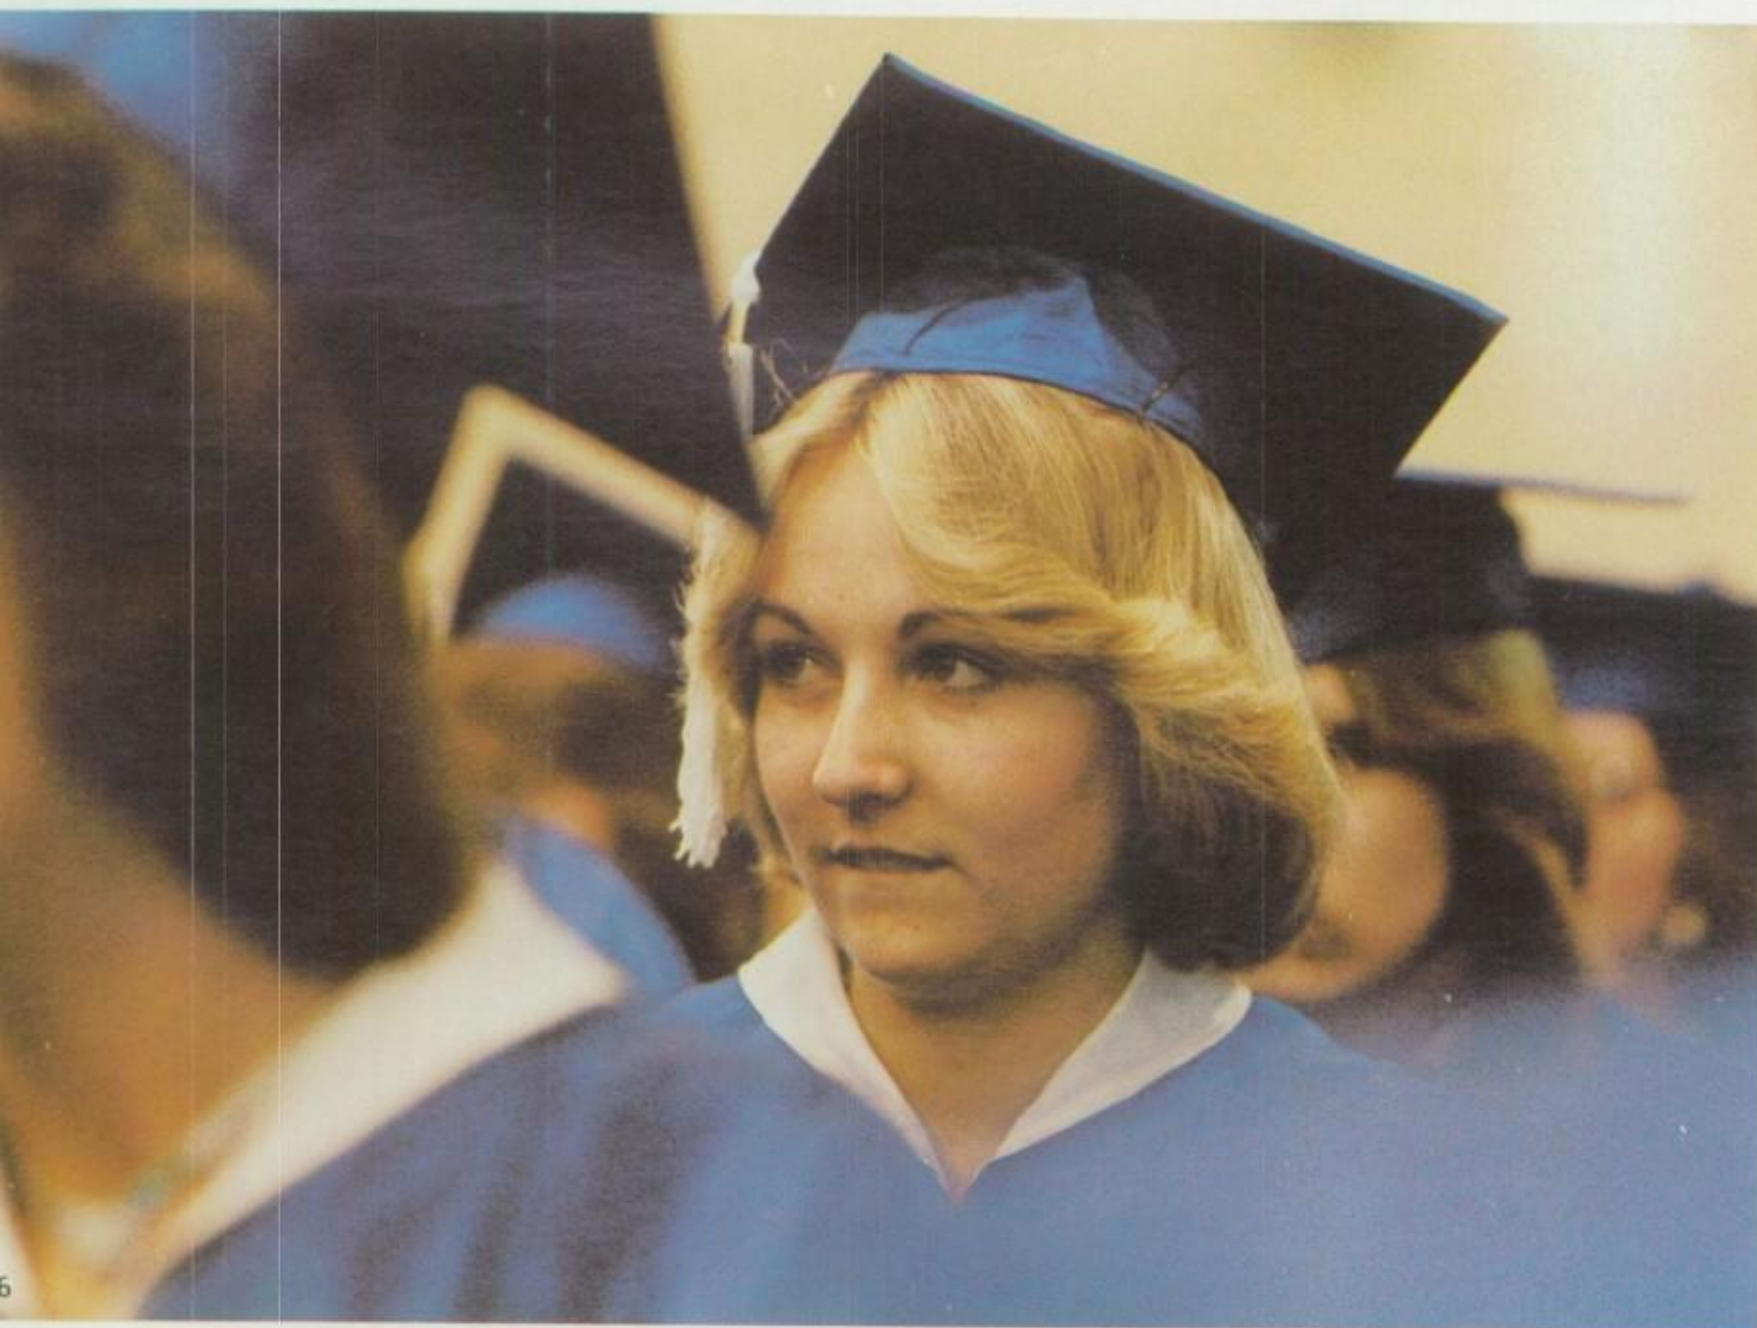

After the announcement of scholarships and awards came the presentation of diplomas. The class then sang the "Halls of Ivy" and Lori Spangler closed with the Benediction.

1. Laura Amell displays tears at the thought of leaving so many friends behind. 2. Being class officers earned Lisa Wolf, Bill Arnold, Hank Stephan, and Cheryl Regan front row seats at graduation. 3. Playing the tuba, Brad Barnett puts in his final performance for the Berry Band. 4. Superintendent Ted Hughes congratulates Kim Wyers. 5. Bob Bunker leads the band for the "Halls of Ivy". 6. Jane Vandermark somberly recalls some of the good times at LHS.

Students give spare time to help

An "Education for all Handicapped Children Act" went into effect on October 1, 1977 with a timetable compliance by 1980. The Act's top priorities included locating and providing educational services to the handicapped children who had received some prior training. The law emphasized building educational programs to fit the child, rather than fitting children into existing programs.

Several Logansport students volunteered their services to the handicapped. Junior Carol Gregory not only volunteered to work out at Camelot Center for three years, but also helped out at Woodlawn Center, at the State Hospital, and presided as president of YARC, an active youth group concerned with helping the mentally ill and physically handicapped. "I consider it a personal accomplishment to be able to work with people less fortunate than myself," said Gregory.

Going to Fairview West constituted a large part of senior Kelly Lowe's every day life. She assisted with the special educational students and also with the deaf students.

Senior Laurie Tatman spent her sixth period at Woodlawn Center teaching pre-schoolers basic techniques such as tying shoes and putting on coats.

According to senior Rex Beeler, the kids at Camelot waited for teenagers daily so that they could have someone nearer their age to talk to.

While many local psychologists and social workers sought new methods to help the handicapped lead normal lives, several Logansport youths did their part and helped in the care of these individuals.

Woodlawn Center, Youth — ARC, the Girls' and Boys' track teams, parents, and the community in general held the annual Track and Field Day on May 10 at the LHS football stadium. After dividing the 400 children by age, sex, and ability, they participated in events such as softball throw, standing long-jumps, kickballs, 50 and 75-yard dashes, and a 440-yard relay. Eleven school corporations took part in the event sponsored by the Council for Exceptional Children. Track and Field Day took the place of Special Olympics so more and different groups could participate. The LHS PVE department printed ribbons for first, second, third, and fourth place winners.

1. Senior Dale Neubaum and graduate Mike Vladetich judge a contestant in the 440 relay. 2. Junior Carol Gregory lifts her little friend so that he can look at some of the main events. 3. Laughing at the cowardice of another participant, this boy decides to go on at the urging of senior Kelly Lowe. 4. "This friendly, old caterpillar sparks up the lives of students at Woodlawn Center," said senior Laurie Tatman. 5. Seniors Jay Erickson and Dale Neubaum joke around a little after the closing of Track and Field Day.

LHS band puts in long hours

Slaving over dozens of music sheets, the Logansport High School Band members spent their sixth periods striving to improve their music abilities. Trying to keep a tune under the smouldering sun, many wondered why their fate included sacrificing their dignity on a parking lot instead of on a football field.

Despite all the toil, grind, and drudgery, approximately 150 members had to have some reason to continue with such diligence in the never ending practices. Their efforts resulted in playing at Purdue during halftime at one of their games last winter, after being chosen from several other high school bands; playing at Indiana Central College; and winning a trophy at the Shrine Day parade. Performing at the annual Hour of Music, and the Commencement exercises also featured their music. Playing for all the home football and basketball games still remained their most popular function.

Patacsil follows brother's footsteps

Six years ago Frank Patacsil began wrestling with the desire to follow in his brother's footsteps. In February, 1978, that dream developed into reality with his winning the State Wrestling Championship.

Patacsil thought he had a good chance to win the championship, but winning it as a sophomore came as a surprise. "Most of the regional winners I wrestled had defeated me once during the regular season," he said.

Patacsil competed in the 138 pound weight division. When asked what his tactics were for keeping down his weight, he confessed, "I don't eat and I run." During the summer he also wrestled several hours a day.

With his father as coach, both learned that their coach-wrestler relationship carried over affecting their home life. "If we have a disagreement in practice the incident ends up at home," he added.

1. Patacsil relaxes after a hard practice. 2. Basketball player Brad Darche tries wrestling with the State Champ. 3. After completing a lap in the Berry Bowl, Patacsil spots a friend.

Disco fever strikes Logan

How did discos get everybody in such a state of trans-fiction? Part of the answer can be found in the success of the movie "Saturday Night Fever." John Travolta enthralled audiences with his performance but the repeating beat of the disco generation triumphed. Grossing $118 million to date, this film had a huge impact on the world of entertainment and made it one of the greatest box office hits ever. The soundtrack album, featuring the Bee Gees, sold 15 million copies.

After the prosperity of their hit, the whole disco industry took off, followed by many other entertainment enterprises.

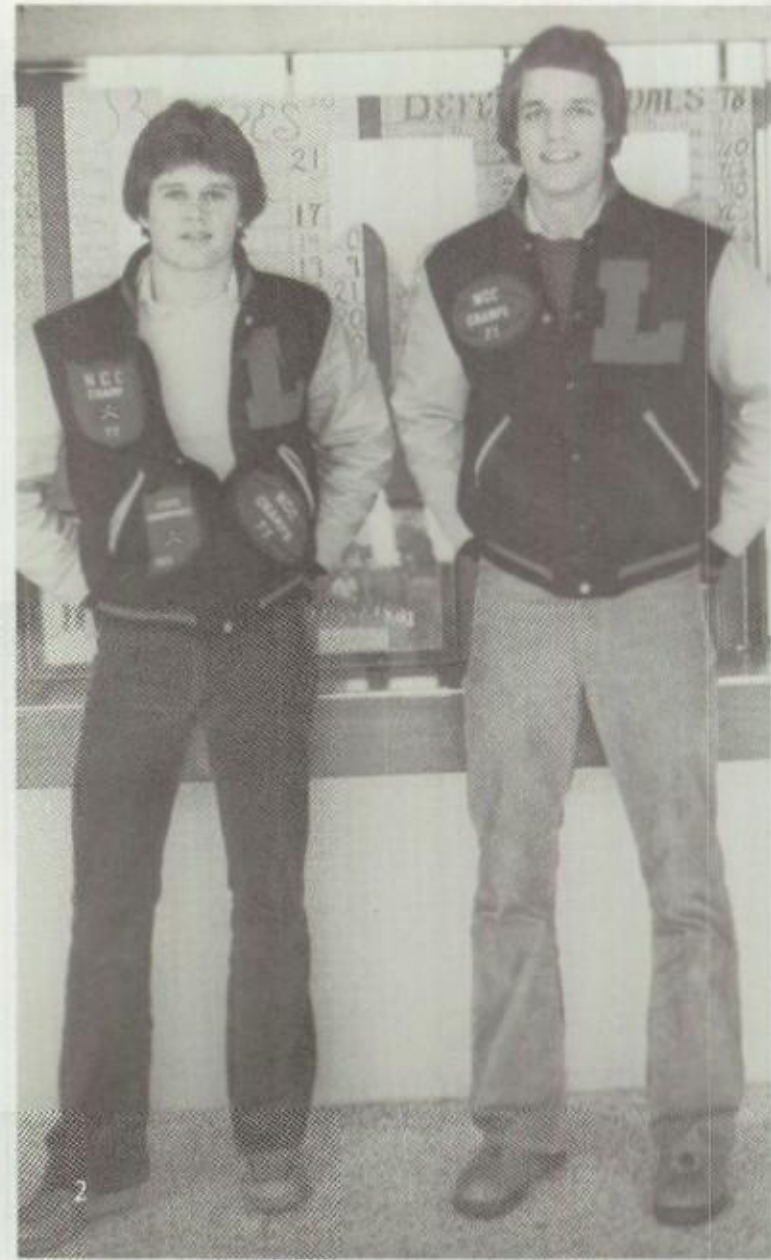

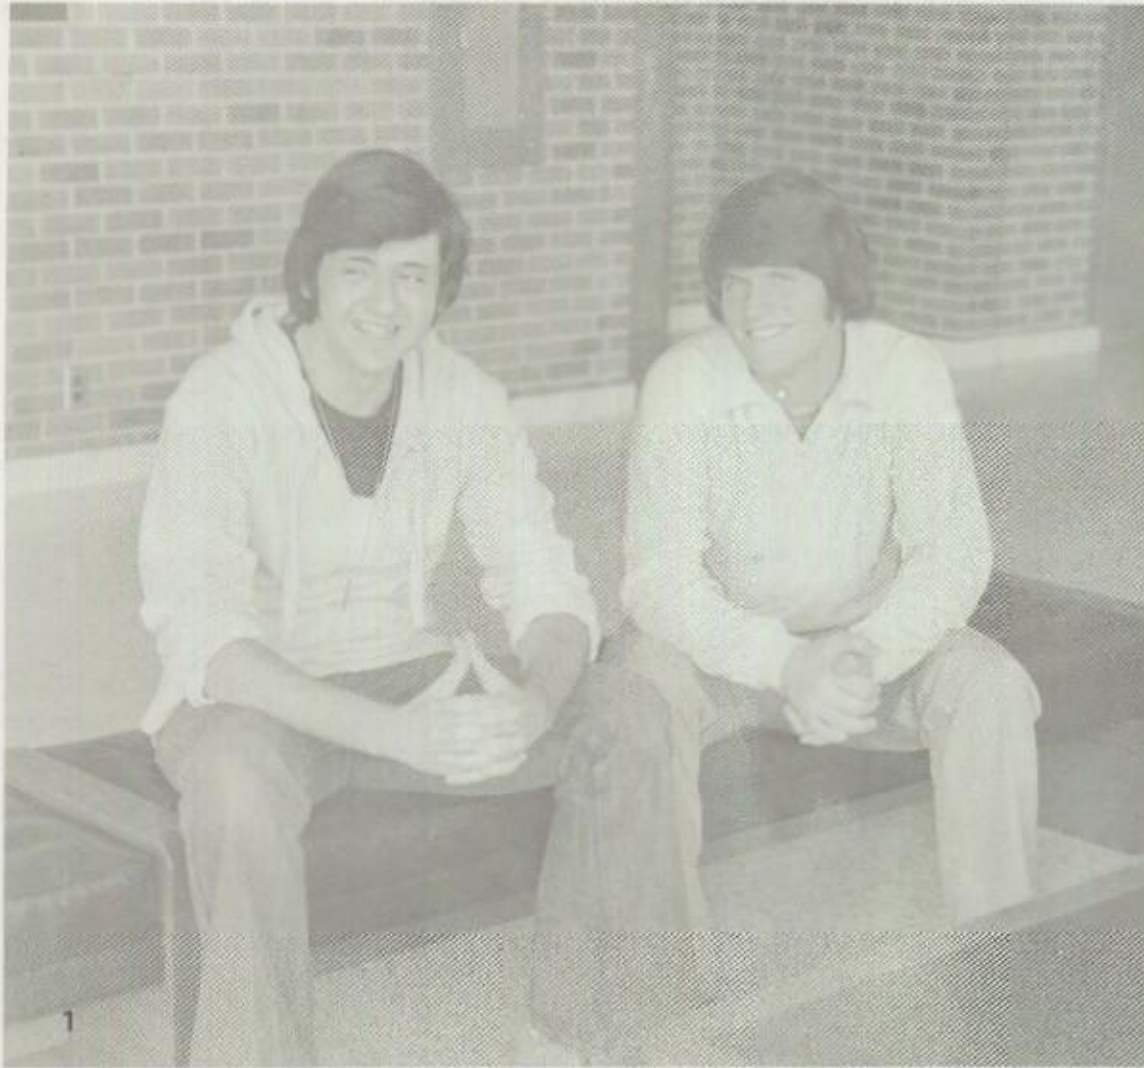

Plenty of action could be found on week-end nights as youth from all around crowded into discos which provided a change from the tired atmosphere of nightclubs and bars. While disco fever burned throughout the nation, even Logansport opened its doors to this new epidemic, welcoming the Underground, a popular amusement for the area's youth. Other discos around town also existed, but only those 21 and over could enter.

Dancing to the beat of such tunes as "Disco Inferno" by the Trammps, LHS students found an extravagant way to show off their silks and glitter purchased exclusively for this new fad. Fad or not, discos allowed young people to perform, to unwind, and to express their own special identities.

1. Students stand along the sidelines during a break in the music. 2. Senior Barry Baldwin becomes a disc jockey two nights during the week. 3. Getting down to the beat of the music adds a sparkle to this girl's week-end. 4. Enjoying the colorful lights and special effects, these students watch as others dance.

Achievements earn recognition

Students found that time combined with effort resulted in meritable achievements and experiences. Whether the interest lay in sports, journalism, government, or music, distinction made the effort all the more worthwhile.

Senior Lori Davidson acquired the DAR Good Citizen Award based on patriotism, service, and leadership. Senior Kevin Haines earned the Century 21 Leadership award based on knowledge of current events. Senior Brooks Tolbert attended a Business Seminar at Wabash College where they prepared young men to become business leaders.

Four students went to Girls' and Boys' State workshops where they became more familiar with voting and campaign procedures. Other students attended a Student Leadership workshop for Student Council where they got up at 6:30 in the morning to do vigorous exercises.

Journalism enthusiasts went to Indiana University and Bethel College to learn more about layout designs and good copy procedures.

Happenings around the world

In an effort to combat heart disease, several million Americans took up sports like jogging and participated in grueling marathons. Thousands, bold enough to attempt the 26 plus miles of the Mayor Daley Marathon, gathered in Chicago in September, while others assembled in New York City for another 26 mile test of endurance. Logan teachers, Mr. Mark Shoup and Mr. Dale Sullivan participated in the Mayor Daley Marathon while Shoup also completed the marathon in New York City.

The American Cancer Society offered an alternative to the usual matter of life and breath approach as America participated in the Great American Smokeout. Events included a dragon in Baltimore, peanuts and pledge cards in Cleveland, and a cold turkey parade in Mobile, Alabama where even Gov. George Wallace swore off his cigars. Around the nation and locally, many went around wearing "Kiss me, I don't smoke" buttons.

Inflation became such a major economic, political, and social force that President Carter changed the economic policy of his administration from fighting unemployment to fighting inflation. The major weapons to fighting inflation included wage price guidelines and higher interest rates. Carter's program had an immediate effect on the dollar, the stock market, and public confidence. Carter signed the $18.7 billion tax cut bill, which allowed the first 60% of capital gains to be excluded from tax. On June 6, 1978, Californians voted overwhelmingly for property tax relief and passed Proposition 13.

After nearly half a century of enmity between Japan and China, representatives of the two countries signed a treaty of peace and friendship in Peking during August. The treaty restored economic, diplomatic, and cultural relations between Tokyo and Peking for the first time since Japan invaded China in 1931. This ended the technical state of war between them.

Iranian students and sympathizers chanted against the Shah of Iran after the Shah exercised the last option available to him. Faced with strikes that had paralyzed Iran's oil-fueled economy with rioting and rebellion, the Shah announced that he would appoint a military government. The Carter Administration, despite its frequent appeals to the Shah for faster liberation, endorsed the decision.

Dr. Margaret Mead, former curator of the American Museum of Natural History, distinguished anthropologist, social critic, lecturer, and author, died on November 15 of cancer at the age of 76.

The Bakke case became a landmark decision after one of the most anxiously awaited court decisions of the century. By a vote of 5-4, the court held that quotas, setting aside a precise number of places for minorities, couldn't be accepted. Also, by a 5-4 vote, it found that race may be considered as a factor in a university's admission policy. Thus, the court approved the action designed to improve education and job opportunities for racial minorities and women. But it also gave Allan Bakke, who had charged the University of California with reverse discrimination, a victory. He had twice been denied admission to its medical school. The court admitted Bakke to next fall's entering class.

After 13 days of being cloistered with their closest aides at Camp David, President Carter, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat, and Israeli Premier Menachem Begin emerged to sign before the watching world, two documents that showed giant efforts toward peace in the Middle East. The two documents: "A Framework for Peace in the Middle East," and "A Framework for the Conclusion of a Peace Treaty between Egypt and Israel," provided the mechanics for peace in the Middle East. As the result of the framework for Mideast peace he engineered between Egypt and Israel, the President gained new respect in Congress and won more legislative battles.

At 36, nearly a quarter of a century since he started to fight as an amateur, Muhammad Ali became the first man to capture the heavyweight championship three times. Ali exulted himself in a victory over Leon Spinks at New Orleans' Superdome, and left an enduring mark on his sport, three times a champion in 14 years.

With the birth of the world's first test-tube baby, human reproduction headed into a new era of medical power. This transition came July 24 when Mrs. Lesley Brown bore a 5-pound baby girl who had been externally conceived, then implanted in her own body to complete the normal process of pregnancy. The impact of the event made headlines all over the world.

Residents of St. Marcarios Monastery, a remote retreat in Egypt's western desert, believed that they had found John the hermit, herald and baptizer of Jesus. Their belief stemmed from oral tradition as well as two manuscripts dating back to the 15th century. The bones arranged in a certain shape, indicated the remains of 14 bodies, buried in accordance with church custom. Only 13 skulls could be found which backed the theory that John the Baptist's body numbered among the others.

More than 100,000 mourners attended the funeral of Pope Paul VI in St. Peter's Square, his death causing chaos in the church. Thirty-three days later, John Paul I died of a massive stroke after he had been chosen as St. Peter's 263rd successor. His brief pontificate had suffused the church with warmth and hope. Once again Camerlengo Villot began the ritual of mourning and papal election that became so familiar to the world. The 112 Cardinal-electors again received the summons to Rome. This time, John Paul II became the first Pole ever to be honored with the office of Pope.

2. A monk shows visitors a collection of the bones of 14 bodies scattered in a forgotten cave. Only 13 skulls could be found, leading them to believe that they had discovered the remains of the beheaded John the Baptist.
3. Mayor Michael Bilandic cuts a piece of Mickey Mouse's unique birthday cake at a party honoring Mickey's 50th anniversary.
4. One of the top comedians of his day, Steve Martin amused audiences of young and old with his charades to the song "King Tut."

6. Emily winner Cicely Tyson heads the cast of "A Woman Called Moses," a two-part, four-hour drama about one woman's fight against slavery.

Election, news attract LHS' attention

On Tuesday, November 7, 1978, the Republican party elected into office nearly all of their county candidates and all of their state candidates, in spite of the smallest turn-out of voters in recent years. Only 57% of 23,393 registered voters in Cass County bothered to go to the polls to cast their ballots.

Democrat Thomas Kragh and Republican Gene Powlen emerged as winners of the major races. Approximately 5000 Cass County voters did not vote on the two amendments to the State Constitution. The first amendment which concerned the clarification of the succession to the Governor's office, received a majority of favorable votes. The second amendment concerned eliminating the present two-term limit on the office of Sheriff, and received a majority of votes that rejected it.

Several LHS students, recruited by candidates, discovered a different way to miss a day of school, but soon found out how much work it involved. Standing out in chilly, autumn winds, many passed out agenda advertising their candidates, while others tried persuading voters to vote for their choice in warm buildings. Nevertheless, students gained valuable experience in politics. According to seniors Diane Hipsher and Angela Beatty, who worked at the fire station, they took turns with sophomores Adam Crowe, Beth Gibson, and Susan Cooke sitting in a volkswagon to keep warm.

Other students, having turned 18 in time to vote, eagerly turned out at the polls to take advantage of their rights to vote from a variety of choices in America's land of democracy.

Formed through long hours of practice and enjoyment, Berry athletes represented LHS in only the finest way. The team sports provided spirit and a spark to the students. Regardless of the record, a satisfaction of participation gave the athletes something they could be proud of.

Weather dampens track spirit

Wanda,
yours was the first wreck I have actually seen with my own eyes. Try to be more careful!

See you this SUMMER.

The Berry boys track team added another winning season to its record. The team suffered injuries to seniors Jeff Jones and Jeff Flowers. Senior Steve Harris ended his high school career with a second place in the discuss event.

Two school records fell during the season. Steve Harris again broke the discuss record for the fourth consecutive year. The new record stands at 179' 11". Sophomore Dave Mason set the school record in the 330 yard low hurdles, with a time of :41.8 seconds. The team finished with a 5-4 regular season record.

The Berries also hosted the annual Logan Relays where Teri Hunter reigned as the Relay Queen.

The girls track team consisted mainly of freshmen during the 1978 campaign. Five girls set new records during the year. Freshman Tina Rush broke the 100 meter with a time of :12.2 seconds. The 400 meter relay team of freshmen Michelle Moore, Karen Hosler, Susie Callaway, and Rush dropped to a record time of :55.3 seconds. Freshman Veronica Sievers leaped 4'10" to slash the old high jump record.

The girls finished with a 1-6 record and finished eighth in the NCC meet hosted by Logansport.

Different strokes for Logan folks

The varsity ended with a 15-2 record. The Berries fell twice to Lafayette Jeff, the '78 state champions. The Berries also participated in three invitational meets during the year.

The NCC meet, hosted by Kokomo, found the Berries finishing fifth out of eight. Logansport won their sectional meet and finished second in the regional. The linksmen went to the semi-state, but lost by a narrow margin before the state competition round.

Two victories over Culver and Haworth sparked the Berry girls tennis team. Despite playing with more experience, a rained out meet with Manchester and tougher competition kept the girls from finishing with a winning season. With most of the losses coming in the last matches of the contests, they compiled a deceiving 6-7 record.

Pacing the Berries, senior Cindy Copeland played in the number one position most of the season. The Berries finished in a fourth place tie with Anderson in the NCC and Copeland advanced to the semi-finals in the conference meet.

Berries continue winning ways.

Beginning the season with an impressive record, the Berries, ranked first in the state for several weeks, won their first ten games. As competition stiffened, they began to fall in the state ratings. The Berries finished with a 19-11 record and a 2-5 mark in the NCC.

Juniors Eric Sweet and Tim Grandstaff led the Berry hitting attack. Sweet had a .385 average and 34 RBI's followed by Grandstaff with a .349 average and 23 RBI's. Sweet also had seven home runs while junior Eric Kinnaman connected for four. Junior Darr Shivley paced the Berry pitchers with an 8-3 record, striking out 55 and walking 34. Sophomore Barry Bowyer also helped the Berries by pitching them to five victories out of nine attempts.

According to Coach Jim Turner, "I know we didn't go to the state, but we did have a good team and a winning season."

Off and running early in August, the LHS cross country team practiced long hours under new head coach Dale Sullivan. Senior Steve Sims paced the Berries with an average time of 13:43. Junior Matt Foreman ran in second position with senior David Smith running third, and juniors Mike Ginzel and David Haines running fourth and fifth.

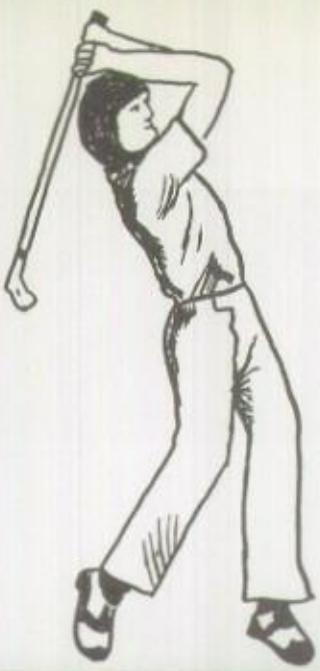

In the Maconaquah Invitational, Logan placed sixth out of eleven; at Twin Lakes, eighth of thirteen; at Delphi, ninth of twenty; and at Logansport, eighth of thirteen. The NCC meet found the Berries in last place. During the year Logan also hosted the Central Indiana Carnival.

Sullivan, a veteran long distance runner, ran with his team during practice and altered the course for running convenience. The team posted a 4-8 season mark.

Berry golf, tennis better season records

Dykeman Golf Course became a familiar sight again this year to the Berry Girls' golf team. With the exception of two seniors, the team consisted mainly of underclassmen. The 1977 team left two voids that needed filling for a successful season.

Junior Kerry Bower took over the number one position with junior Kala Olson running a close second, both returning for the third year. Rounding out the varsity squad, sophomores Jan Campbell and Amy Pollitt and senior Patty Finley placed third, fourth, and fifth respectively.

A partial JV team, consisting of senior Laurie Tatman and freshmen Cindy Padgett and Cindy Lyons, played whenever opposing teams had reserve squads.

Coach Penny Bannon felt that the girls had a good season because they won with inexperience and underclass efforts.

Despite losing both doubles teams to graduation, the boys' tennis team came close to their first winning season in several years.

Playing behind the number one and two seeded players, seniors Craig Billman and Keith London, the Berries finished with a much improved 7-8 season record. Also giving an impressive show, third seeded junior Sean Smith compiled a 16-1 NCC mark. Filling the vacant doubles spots, seniors John Zimmerman and Owen Elliot played as the number one team with senior Gary Hutchcraft and sophomore Jeff Sackett in the number two doubles position.

The netters ended with a fourth place finish in the NCC in addition to having London and Smith named to the all-NCC tennis team.

Accustomed to three practices a day in August, the LHS football team prepared for another try at the NCC crown. The team complained about the usual penalty of running the hill; however, all the grueling work put into practice showed in the fifth consecutive winning season with a 7-3 mark.

Senior Eric Sweet received the Most Valuable Player award at the annual Fall Sports Banquet. The UPI named seniors Sweet and Landy Breeden to its All-State team while seniors Chris Jackson, Breeden, Sweet, Eric Kinnaman, Kevin Copenhaver, and Tom Dexter made the All-Conference team.

Junior Kelly Minnick scrambled for nine touchdowns for the season. Dexter and Sweet scored seven and six touchdowns respectively. Minnick rushed for 599 yards to pace the Berries while junior Mike Harrington totaled 233 yards. Minnick also made two interceptions for Logansport.

The Berries outscored their opponents 205 to 140. Head Coach Don Baldini stated that the seniors carried the weight of the team and that he has high hopes for next year's team.

Underclassmen strive for varsity position

Getting together to complete a winning season, the freshman football team averaged 333 yards per game and outscored its opponents 178-46.

Freshman Butch Bullard scored 62 points to pace the team. Bullard tackled 57 opponents while freshman Greg Baer accumulated 55. Freshman Sam Untiedt and Jeff Humes intercepted the ball twice each. Jeff Bender recovered three fumbles for Logansport.

Bullard also gained 711 yards in 66 attempts, caught fourteen passes for 248 yards, and recorded 10 touchdowns for the season. Quarterback Jim Herron completed 29 of 48 attempts, five for touchdowns. The record stood at 6-2 for another successful season. Coach Al Thomas stated that the freshmen had many potential varsity players on the team.

Fighting for positions on the starting lineup, the J.V. team gained valuable experience practicing with the varsity squad. Junior Tony Rozzi amassed 421 yards and three touchdowns in 57 attempts. Sophomore Barry Platt scored six touchdowns from sophomore Tim Bender. Bender completed 14 of 26 for a total of 300 yards.

Sophomore Curt Maxon tackled 52 opponents to lead the squad. Sophomore Jeff Roach intercepted three passes. The team finished with a 3-5 season mark.

1. Looking to Coach Baldini for aid, junior Steve Zinsmaster argues about a referee's call. 2. During the Homecoming game, the Berries offensive line awaits the next play. 3. A hungry Berry defense talks over strategy. 4. Getting good blocking, senior Eric Sweet hands off to a hidden Berry fullback.

Cagers keep winning tradition

With help from freshmen scoring leaders Jerry Williams and Bill Hiatt, the Berry reserves showed much promise for the varsity squad. Leading the reserves in assists, sophomore Brad Platt called the plays on the floor. The Berries had big wins over New Castle and Anderson with Muncie Central forced to forfeit. Consistency proved to be the strong point of this year's reserves and should continue as they make the transition from junior varsity to varsity.

Keeping with the Berry tradition, the Frosh Basketball team posted another successful season. Despite a 25 point loss to Marion McCullough, the Berries got themselves back into winning style. Doug Schrum led the B team in scoring while Butch Bullard paced the A team. Mark Frye pulled down the most rebounds for the A team.

Berries regain sectional crown

A clutch showing by junior Bert Miller and a missed Peru free throw with two seconds remaining in overtime gave the Berries the championship of the 1979 sectional tourney, with a 41-40 win over the rival Tigers.

During the season Coach Jim Williams depended on his usual starting line-up of senior Eric Kinnaman, Landy Breeden, and Eric Sweet, and juniors Brad Darche and Jay Williams. Williams led the Berries in scoring throughout the season.

Other Berries who saw action included juniors Bert Miller, Tim Schlick, and Barry Bowyer. Logan played a patient game during the year and consistently worked for the open shot on offense. All five starters led the scoring in at least one game during the season and Logansport didn't depend on any one player in the pressure situations.

"The success of a season shouldn't be measured by the performance of a team in the tournament," said Coach Williams. "I'm proud of the way this team played all year long and even if we had lost our first tournament game I would have to call this a very successful season."

Despite an improved season, the Berry girls fell to Lewis Cass in overtime in the championship game of the sectional. Under new head coach, Jan Blackburn, the girls compiled an 8-12 season record and finished seventh in the NCC.

Leading the Berries in scoring, sophomore Tammie Llewellyn and junior Kristy Copenhaver sparked the girls to a successful season.

Sophomore Linda Clark pulled down the most rebounds followed by Copenhaver who tossed in the most free throws. With a full roster returning, the girls aimed for a 1980 sectional win.

Paced by MVP sophomore Linda Clark, the girls' volleyball team finished with a much improved season over previous years. In addition to being named to the all-NCC team, Clark helped the Berries defeat Pioneer and Peru.

The NCC tournament, along with the Lewis Cass and Twin Lakes meets, proved to be Logan's toughest challenges. The Berries did manage to advance to the final match of the sectional before bowing to a veteran Twin Lakes squad.

With thirty members returning, Coach Ruth Ruschokofski looks forward to a strong squad.

Berry wrestlers capture another sectional win

Following in the tradition of past years, the Berry wrestling squad captured another Sectional win. The season started out slowly, but the excitement of the sport and the depth of the team churned spirits and victories out for the final five minutes.

Joe Patacsil predicted an equally successful season next year, due to the fact that most of the Sectional winners will return next year.

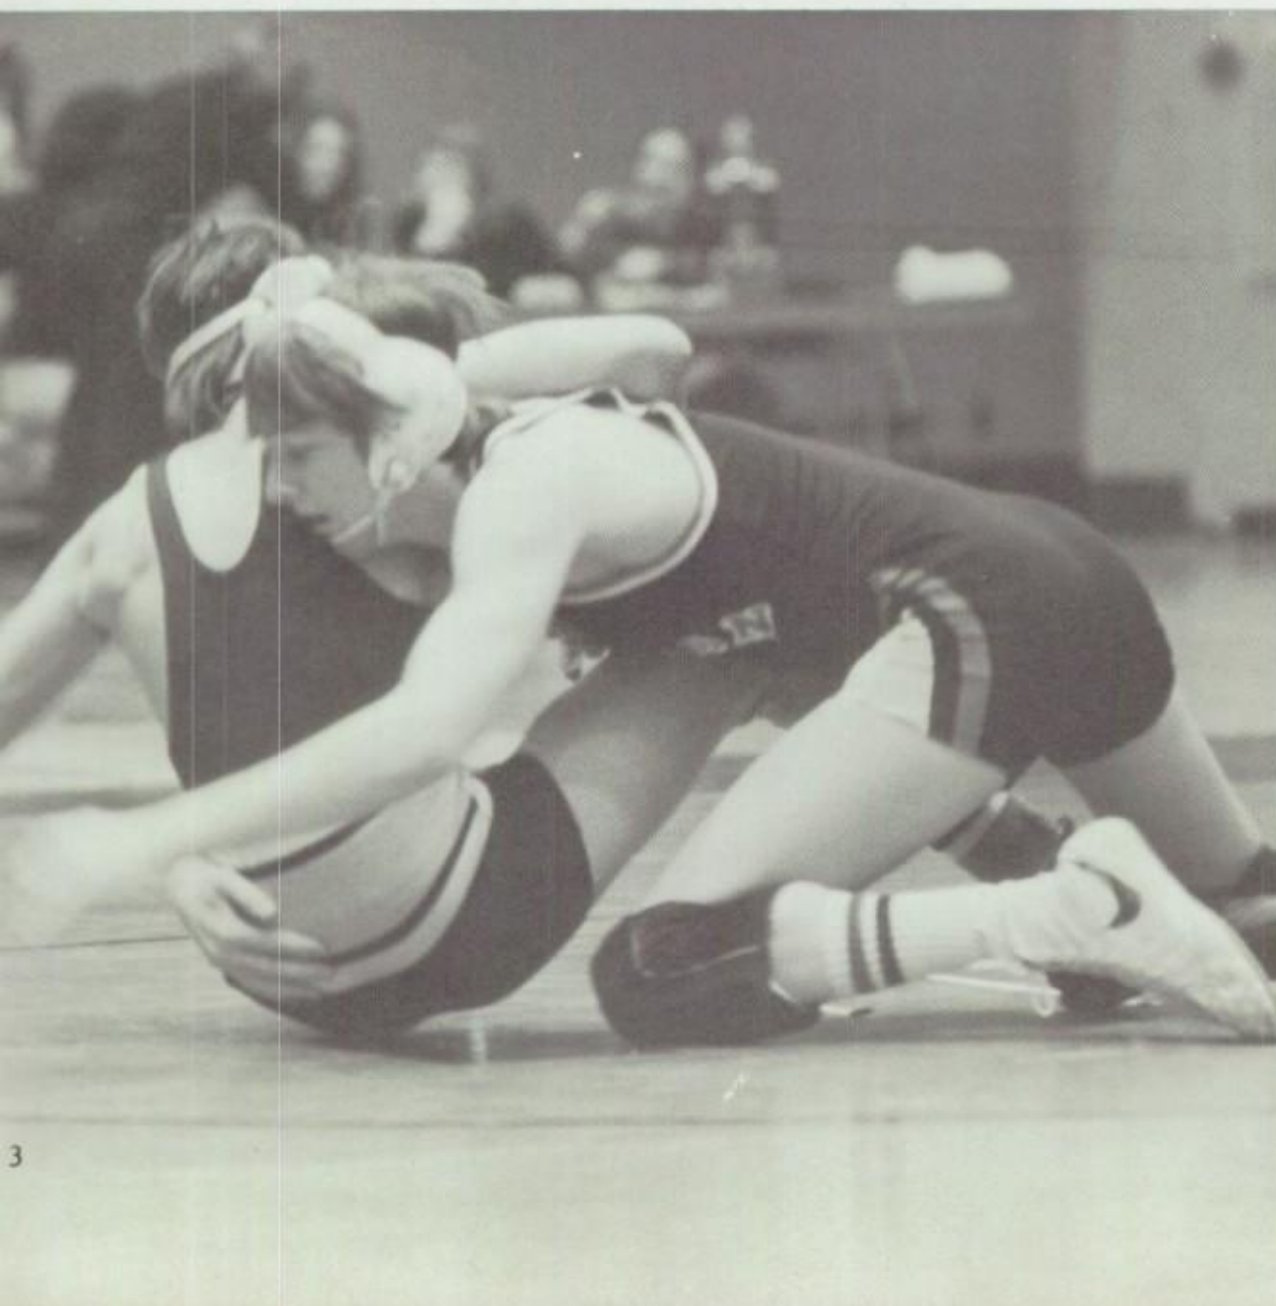

A loss in this final match of the state meet crushed Frank Patacsil's hopes of repeating as a state champion.

Raising spirits before the meet, the boys gather in the pool. 3. After the official shoots the gun to signal the start of the backstroke, sophomore Walt Little throws his head back for a head start. 4. Senior Amy Roberts pulls in to win another title at the NCC meet. 5. Girls' Swim Team. Front row: Lisa Murr, Stacie Hettmansperger, Holle Baker, Lana Davis, Carol Cahalan, Debbie Harmon, Terri Smith, Denise Blackburn. Second row: Stephanie Stralham, Karen Rudolph, Lisa Crowe, Veronica Sievers, Beth Kovacs, Dottie Richards, Amy Roberts. Back row: Coach Robin Beck, Beth Gibsop, Cath Haesecker, Debbie Tocco, Kelly Cary, Allison Templeton, Donna Richards, Cindy Barnett, Trish Schaeffer.

Beginning her second year of coaching at LHS, coach Robin Beck tallied her second winning season. The swimmers broke all the records except two this year. Senior Amy Roberts holds five individual and both relay records.

The Berry swimmers also qualified five girls for the state meet. Roberts captured her fourth consecutive NCC breast stroke title to end her career. Lowering many times through much hard work showed a record of 11-3.

Begginning late in September, the boys practiced many of coach Henry Stephan's new swimming techniques. Hard work cut times which broke three records.

Senior Tim Chu crushed the 100 free record with a :52.4 clocking, senior Steve Erickson broke the 500 free twice in 5:28.31, and the 200 free fell as sophomore Walter Little pulled in at 1:59.6.

CLASSES

Mr. Phil Hershberger helps junior Billy Jean Tincher with homework.

Added life to...

Students carried on daily assignments at LHS until the bell rang at 3:00 p.m. Then some stayed for club meetings or rode home with friends. From Freshmen to seniors, speech team to track team, everyday students became outstanding Logan Berries in fields from education to entertainment. This helped to turn everyday classmates into intelligent men and women ready to fulfill their life's goals.

Biologists explore Lake Cicott

Investigating, experimenting, and taking endless pages of notes busied LHS science students. Mr. Lapierre, Mr. Kizer, and Miss Ruschkofski familiarized first year biology students with the Berry Patch and its many wonders.

For the first time in four years, sunshine welcomed second year biology students to Lake Cicott. While there, they tested the water in order to collect information in their observations of wildlife and plant life.

Increasing and continuing basic mathematical skills kept general math students busy while business math students learned to apply their skills to practical applications.

The math department welcomed a new face. Mr. Ken Peters, along with veteran teachers, helped Algebra students master the fundamentals of  $x$  and  $y$ . Upperclassmen carried on their studies with geometry, second year algebra, and computer science.

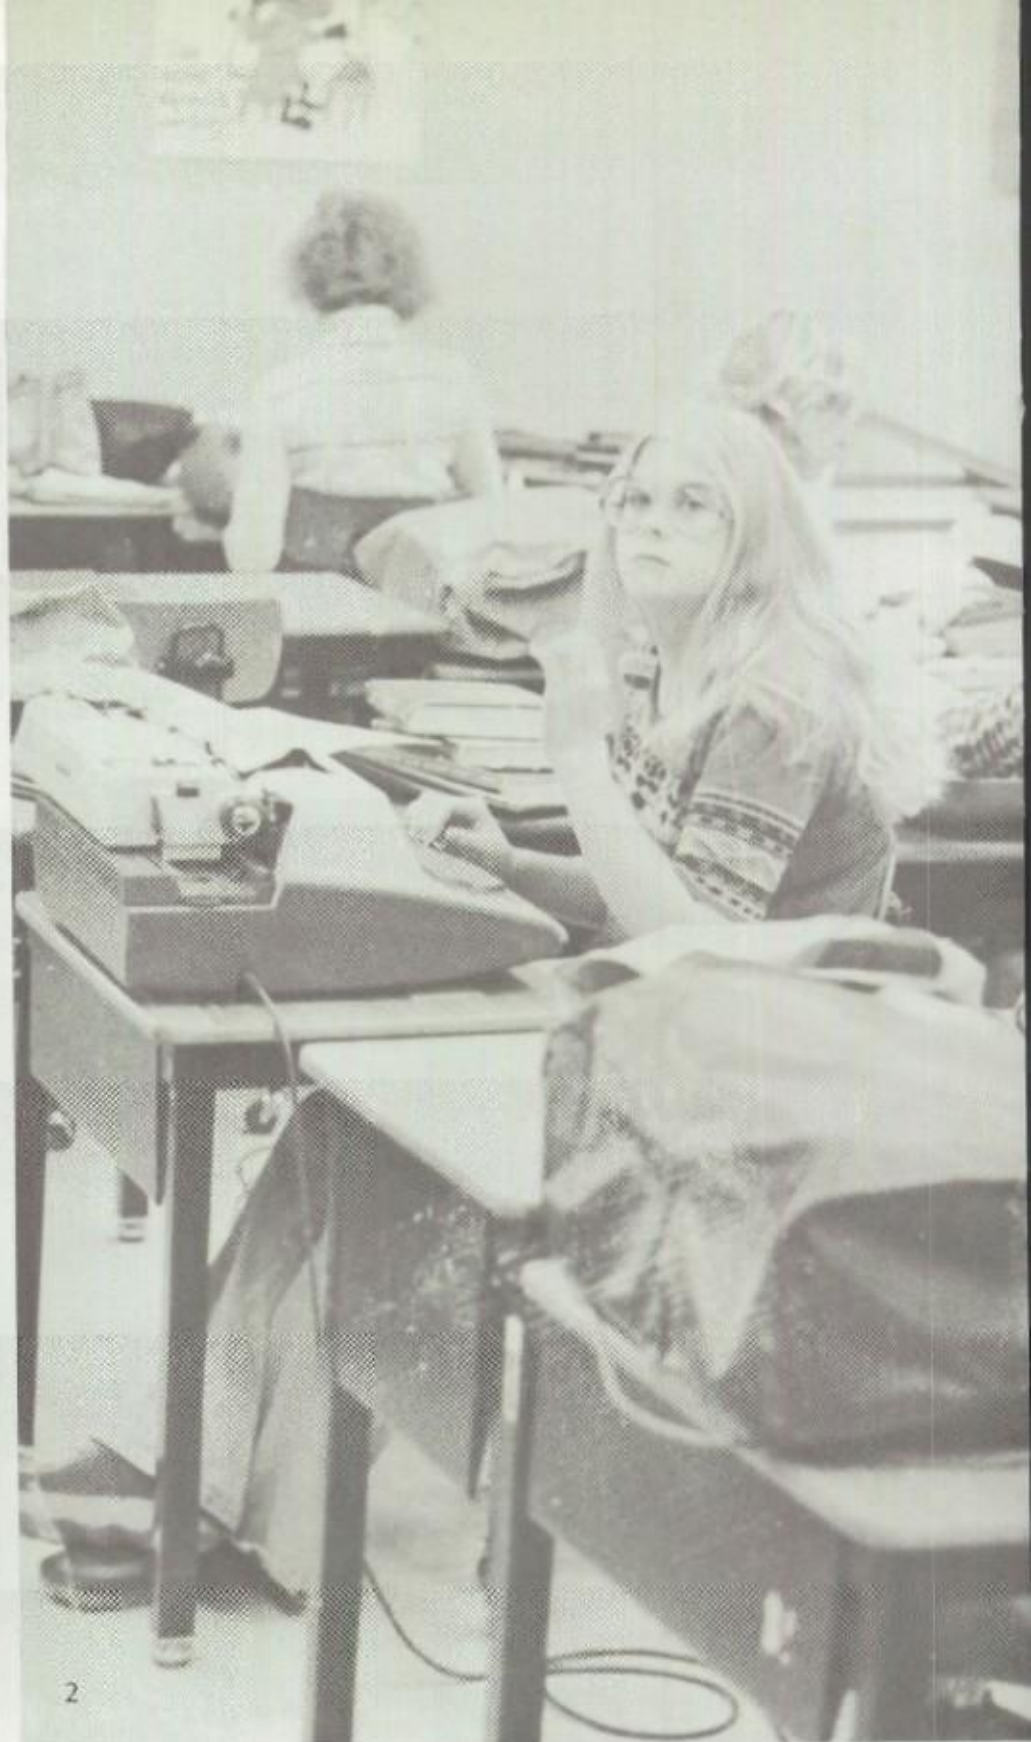

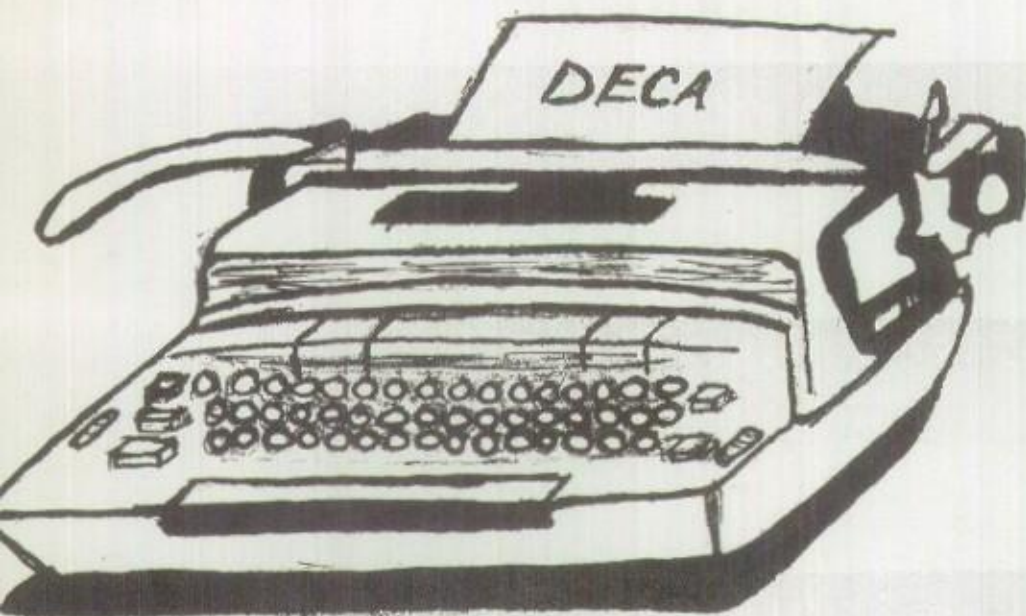

1. In his fourth period mathematics class, Mr. Lozier helps a student work out a division problem. 2. Students find themselves goofing around in mathematics class. 3. In college algebra, senior Brooks Tolbert tries to work out a problem. 4. Second-year biology students, Tom Cahalan, Todd Decker, and Mark Moore observe an experiment in the Berry Patch. 5. A first year chemistry student does an experiment on the activity of metals. 6. After finishing an experiment in the Berry Patch, sophomore Walt Little heads back to the classroom.

Business labs develop skills

Drilled to improve the fundamentals of the business world, students learned to use the typewriter for a form of communication. They improved the skills of typing by combining speed with accuracy. Shorthand classes made scribbles into meaningful statements, while clerical lab students experienced preparatory employment in vocational training.

Distributive Education course allowed the development of salesmanship to the business oriented. These students tested their selling ability with the help of on-the-job training at local business establishments.

English department welcomes Miss Shaw

Smaller reading and basic grammar classes enabled freshmen to receive more individual attention. Speech classes, both freshmen and advanced, welcomed the arrival of Miss Barbara Shaw in her first year of teaching. Sophomores challenged diagramming and literature in class while juniors struggled through American literature. Memorizing sonnets and cramming for Weaver tests kept seniors up late at night.

In foreign language the basic sounds and structures of the languages busied first year students. Some, who had completed two or more years of a foreign language, took the opportunity to travel to their land of study. German students backpacked across Germany, Switzerland, Denmark and Austria for six weeks last summer while French students visited France and England for two weeks.

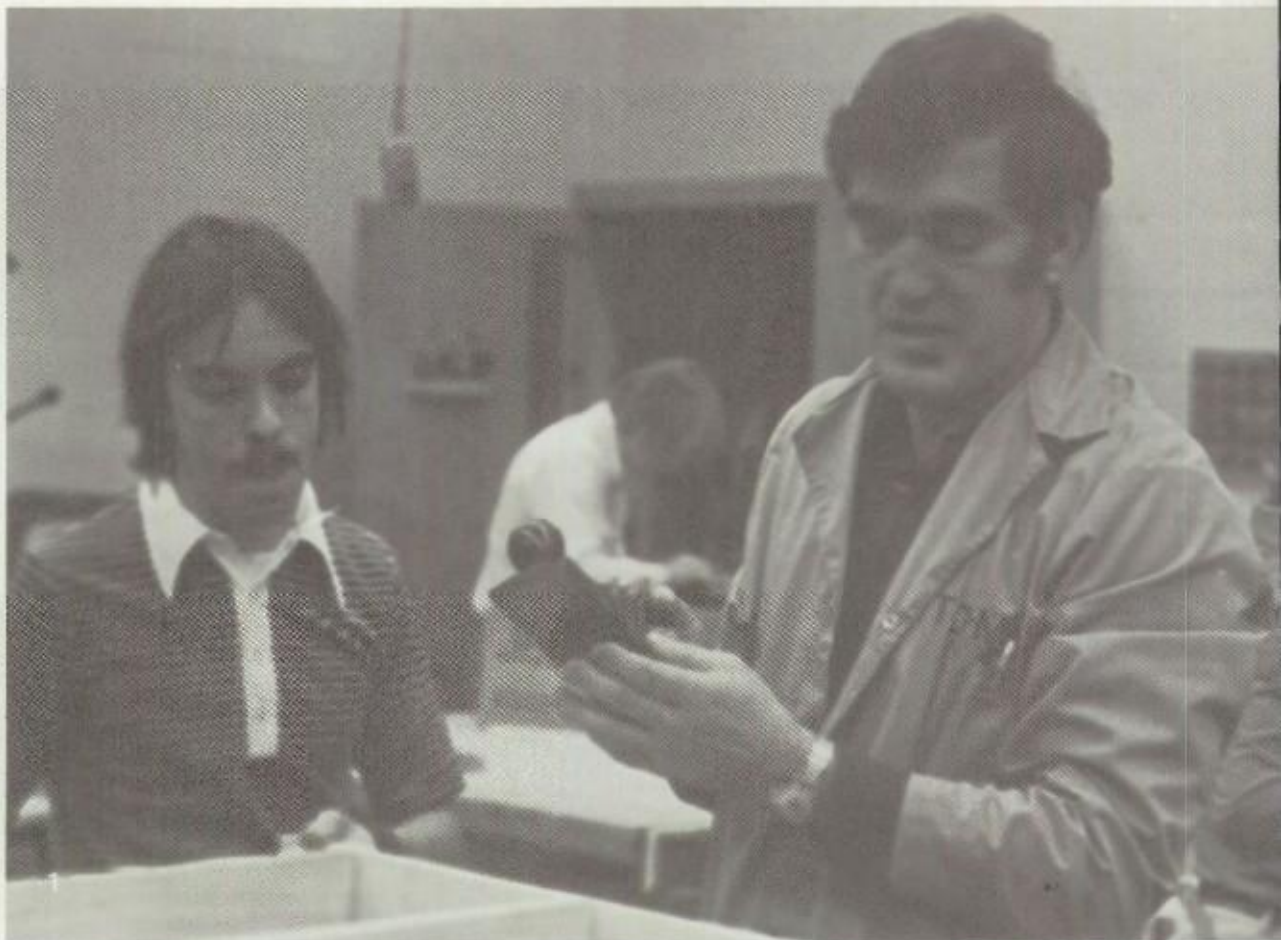

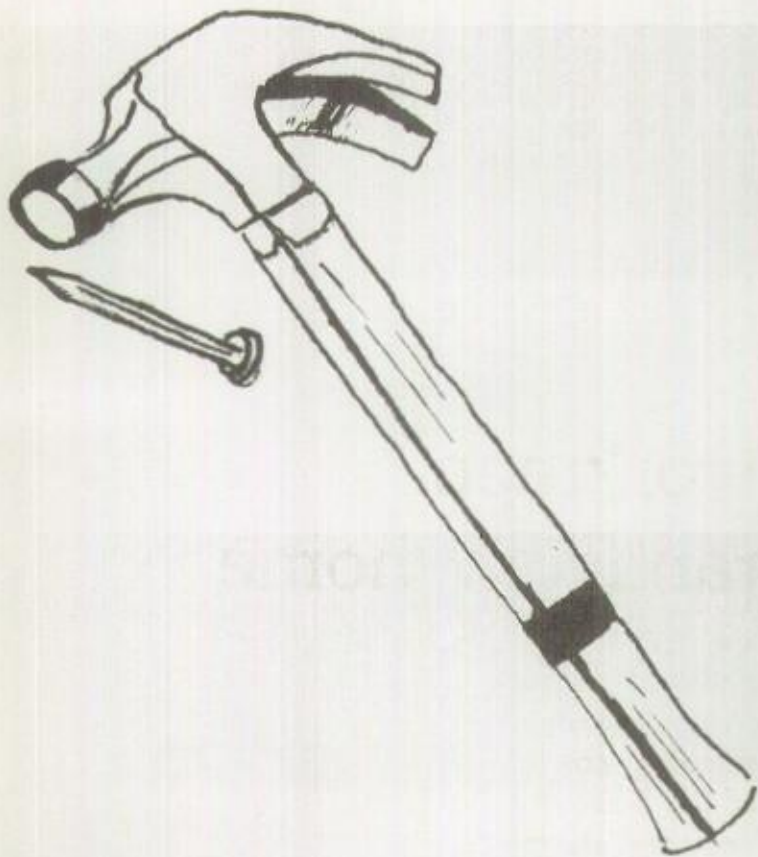

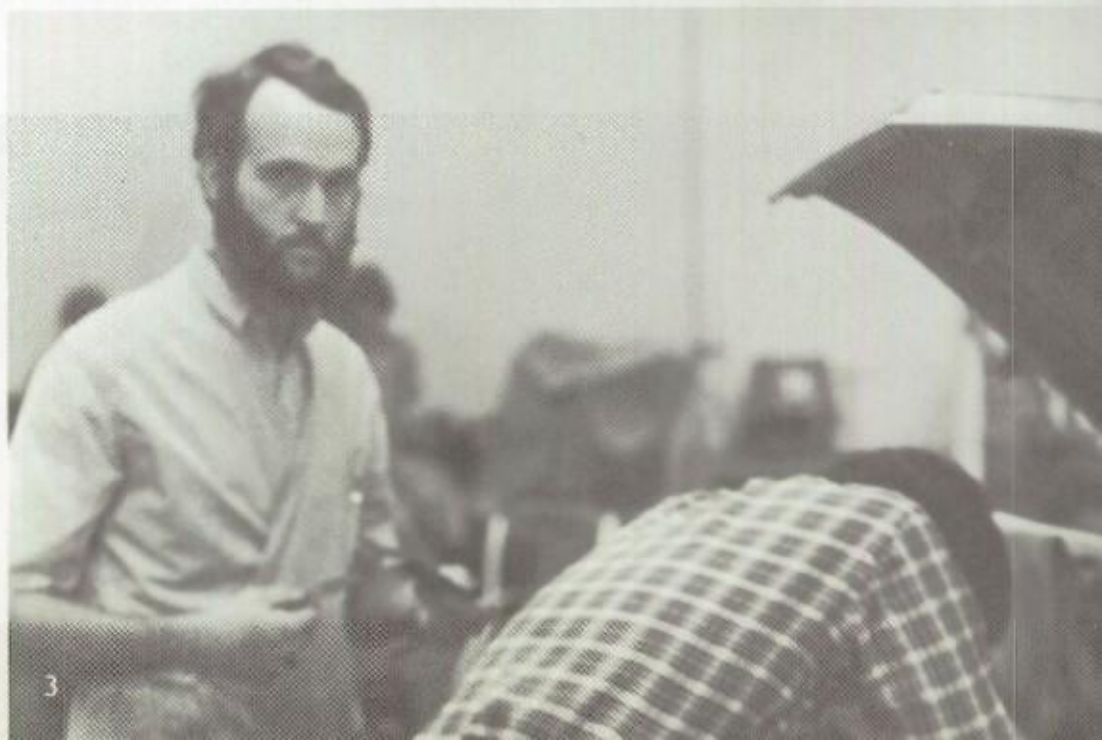

1. Leading a discussion, Mr. Weaver explains symbolism in Hawthorne's Scarlet Letter to his fourth period junior literature class. 2. Third year German students, Mark Brown, Tad Daniels, and Terri Smith try to decipher one of Mr. Schroeder's latest assignments. 3. Leafing through her English notes, senior Jan Keyes studies for a Weaver test. 4. Fourth year French students laugh at Mrs. Shilling's adventures this summer in France. 5. In Mrs. Siefert's freshman speech class, Cheryl Clayton, Chris Hunter, and Jill Ditmire imitate Santa's elf, Mickey Mouse, and Steve Martin.

1. Mr. Thomas shows senior Chris Hipsher the proper use of the plane. 2. Making a chess board, freshman Chris Hanawalt sands the edges. 3. After checking the car radiator, Mr. Klaiber lets a student take over. 4. Junior Randy Byers watches others work while he takes a break. 5. Senior Nelson Noble works with the printing press. 6. Startled by the photographer, senior Dave Hardy looks up from measuring the area of a room.

Skilled workmen build Grandview home

Building trades classes developed skills in reading blueprints and estimating costs. Students mastered the skills of carpentry, plumbing, and electricity after building a home on Grandview Drive. The future architects learned not only the basic skills needed for such trades as masonry, but also developed qualities for leadership and an appreciation for a job.

Offering opportunities for future employment, industrial arts provided various courses. For those not interested in building trades, automobile mechanics offered the students a chance to save money by working on their cars. School publications from play programs to Magpies provided students the experience of working with the printing press. Students mastered skills using their originality along with their hands in woodshop.

PE encourages competitive atmosphere

Every other day during the school year, many sophomores and freshmen interrupted their academic schedules through activities offered in PE classes. Activities from running to gymnastic routines allowed students to relax their minds from the day's school work.

They developed their physical talents, and also improved their qualities in leadership and cooperation. Whether playing tennis, shooting a basketball, or just swimming laps, PE gave students a different aspect of education.

Enrolled in driver's education class, beginning drivers experienced situations which helped them develop good driving habits. They learned how to be "defensive drivers" and gained knowledge in class about the rules of the road, car insurance, and the maintenance of a car. They familiarized themselves with the auto's instruments and its safety features in order to drive safely.

1. Mr. Baldini explains basic basketball techniques to gym students. 2. A photographer surprises sophomore Diane Crist while playing volleyball. 3. Sitting attentively, sophomore Mark Kistler listens to instructions. 4. On your mark, get set, go! Mr. Patacsil, Bruce Ewing, and Kerry Logston ready themselves for another routine drive. 5. PE students watch a fellow student practice before being tested for volleyball skills. 6. Underclassmen relax after tedious exercises.

Wanda, have fun
summer. Good luck in the future with Dean this year. Fam slay I got to know you better since Ninth Street was vacated by you.

2
I can't believe we finally made it through 13 yrs. of school.

1. Molding pottery, senior Susan Franklin adds finishing touches to her work.
2. A basic art student designs a Christmas card.
3. LHS band plays the National Anthem before a home basketball game.
4. Band members practice a recent repertoire.
5. Art students keep their instruments before the bell rings.
6. Band members, Laura Jones, Beth Klaiber, Mark Filbey, Erick Storckman, Tammy McCall, Anita Grimes, and Jenny Flory participated in music institutes.

New trend found at Logan?

Developing hidden talents challenged art students. New textbooks assisted students in design class, as beginning art classes learned the techniques of art. The art department also added a new darkroom for photography classes and publishing staffs.

With over fourteen different musical organizations in the department, music personnel kept busy. Choir and band members practiced for numerous performances, while some determined souls rose early for swing choir and Berrytone practices.

All of these organizations joined together for a public Christmas performance. The audience showed such enthusiasm that a pleased Mr. Joe Huffman stated, "It will probably be the start of a trend."

Students study family life

Home economics helped students develop home management skills, while marriage classes studied family issues.

Students interested in vocational jobs took courses at El-Tip-Wa. Auto body repair and mechanics provided training mechanics a chance to use their skills from overhauling an engine to retouching a car body. While reading blueprints and soldering added depth to the welder's knowledge, agribusiness helped future farmers learn more of the agricultural world.

On-the-job training provided such courses as industrial cooperative training and cosmetology, allowed high school students to gain experience in these areas.

The Home Economics Related Occupation, or HERO program, attracted several students in areas of child care and commercial foods.

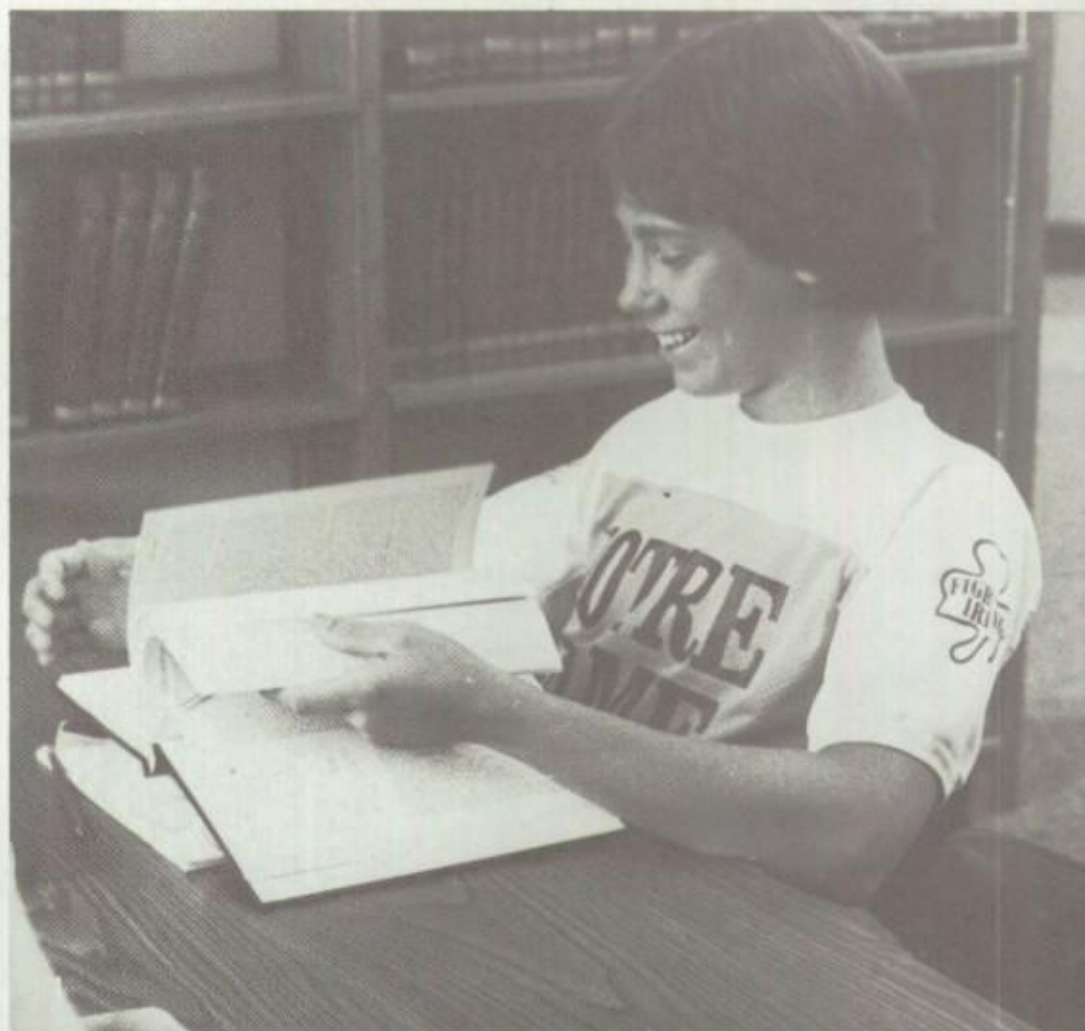

1. Reverend Earl Davidson discusses different aspects of marriage in 3rd period marriage class. 2. In senior foods class, seniors Jim Shaw and Rob Costello attack their cakes. 3. Watching their cookies bake, seniors gather around the oven. 4. Pleased by the results of her cake, sophomore Joyce Elpers cuts a freshly baked cake. 5. HERO program students, Lisa Conrad, Susan Mullett, Susan Watts, and Fonda Sutton, learn to use a bakery mixer.

1. Researching work, senior Kevin Knight smiles at the relief of finishing his assignment. 2. Junior Carl Baker works on his U.S. History. 3. Bored with school work, sophomore Steve Schwering eyes the photographer. 4. Serious-faced Mr. Gundrum explains a few rules to a student during study hall. 5. Looking up his vocabulary words, junior Kevin Hayward uses the dictionary. 6. Senior David Shepler talks to a camera shy classmate.

Billman assists with library research

When seeking information, LHS students turned to the media center for help on various reports. Mrs. Billman and the student librarians helped researchers find the needed information. The library, along with study hall, provided students with time to cram for the next period's test, visit with friends, or catch up on sleep.

Work orientation remained the main purpose for PVE, pre-vocational education. PVE students experienced many forms of preparation for future employment while working towards a high school diploma.

1. Mr. Bill Kiesling shows the influence of current events to economics. 2. Juniors exhibit interest in Kim Wyer's story. 3. Bill Minglin listens to Mr. Cornelius' discussion. 4. Government students take lecture notes. 5. Mr. Kent Alder stresses a point during his history class. 6. Junior Chuck McManus points out a historical landmark during class discussion.

History examines American society

Field trips, guest speakers, filmstrips, and movies aided social studies teachers as they assisted students in gaining a greater understanding of man and "his story."

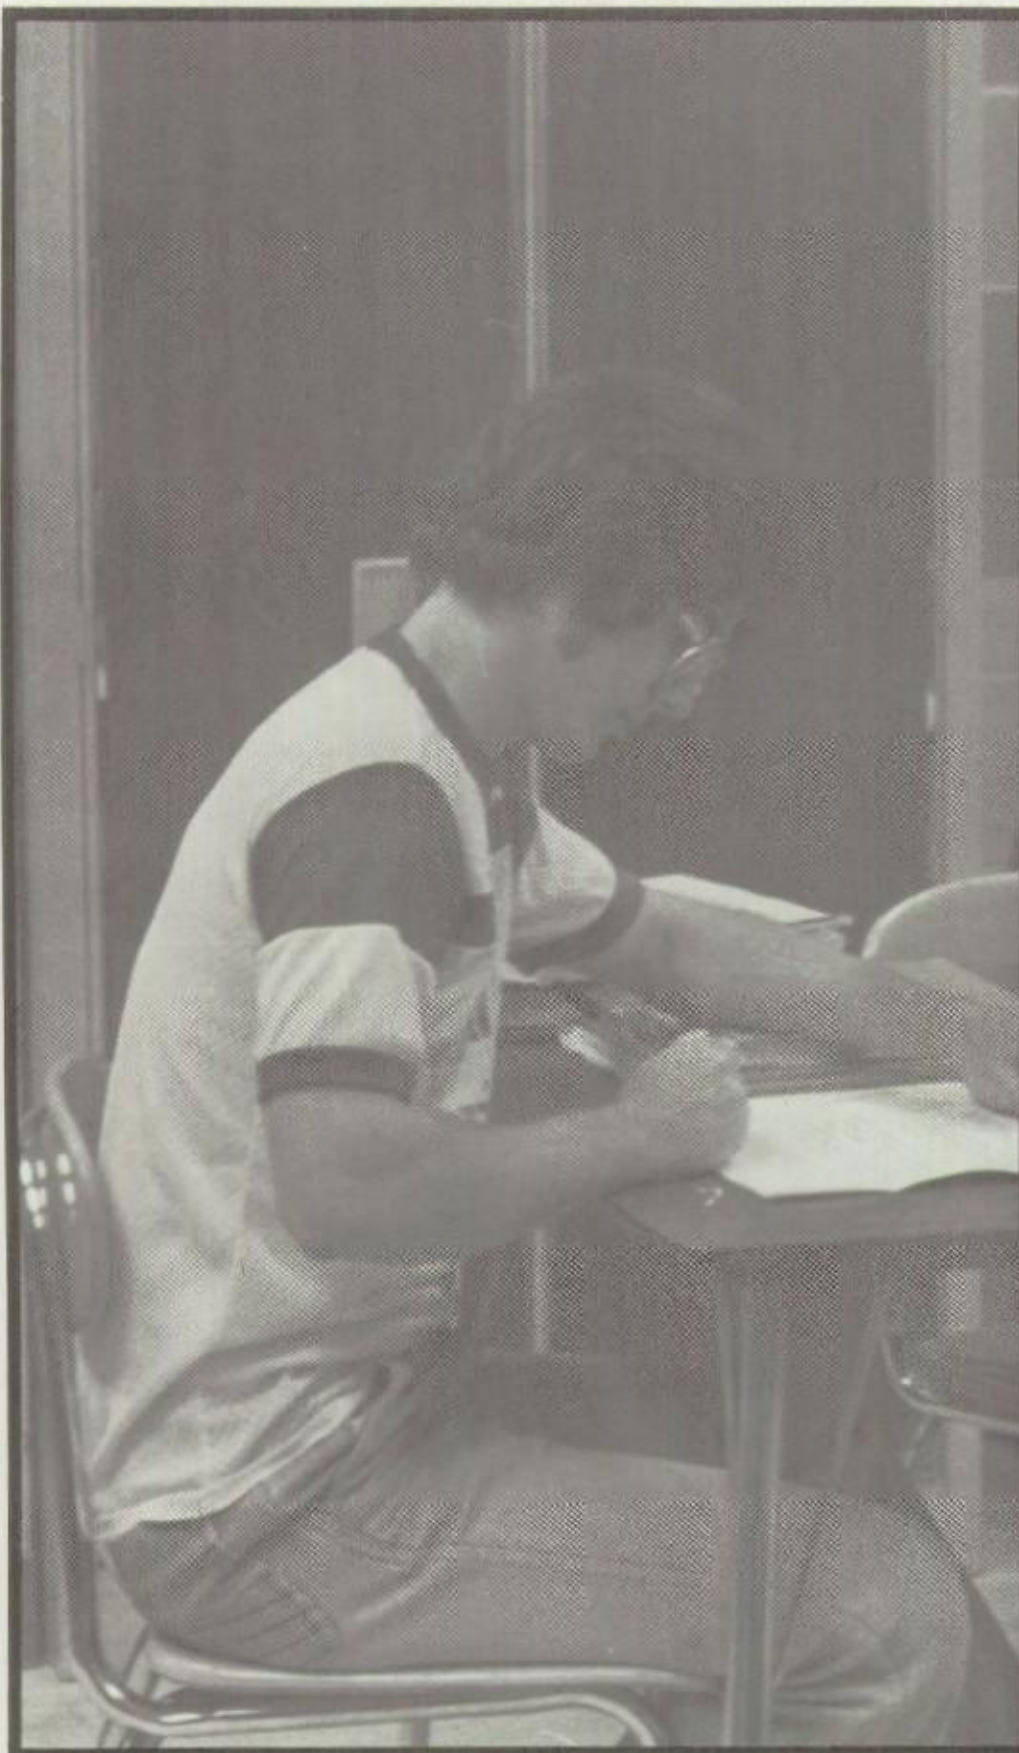

Anthropology classes studied pre-historic man and his evolution through the ages. Researching the history and culture of a people enabled students in Four Societies to understand that society better.

Modern World history classes found a new look in the history department. They greeted Mr. Kent Alder, a graduate of LHS, in his first year of teaching. Juniors tackled US History by memorizing the Preamble and interpreting the Constitution.

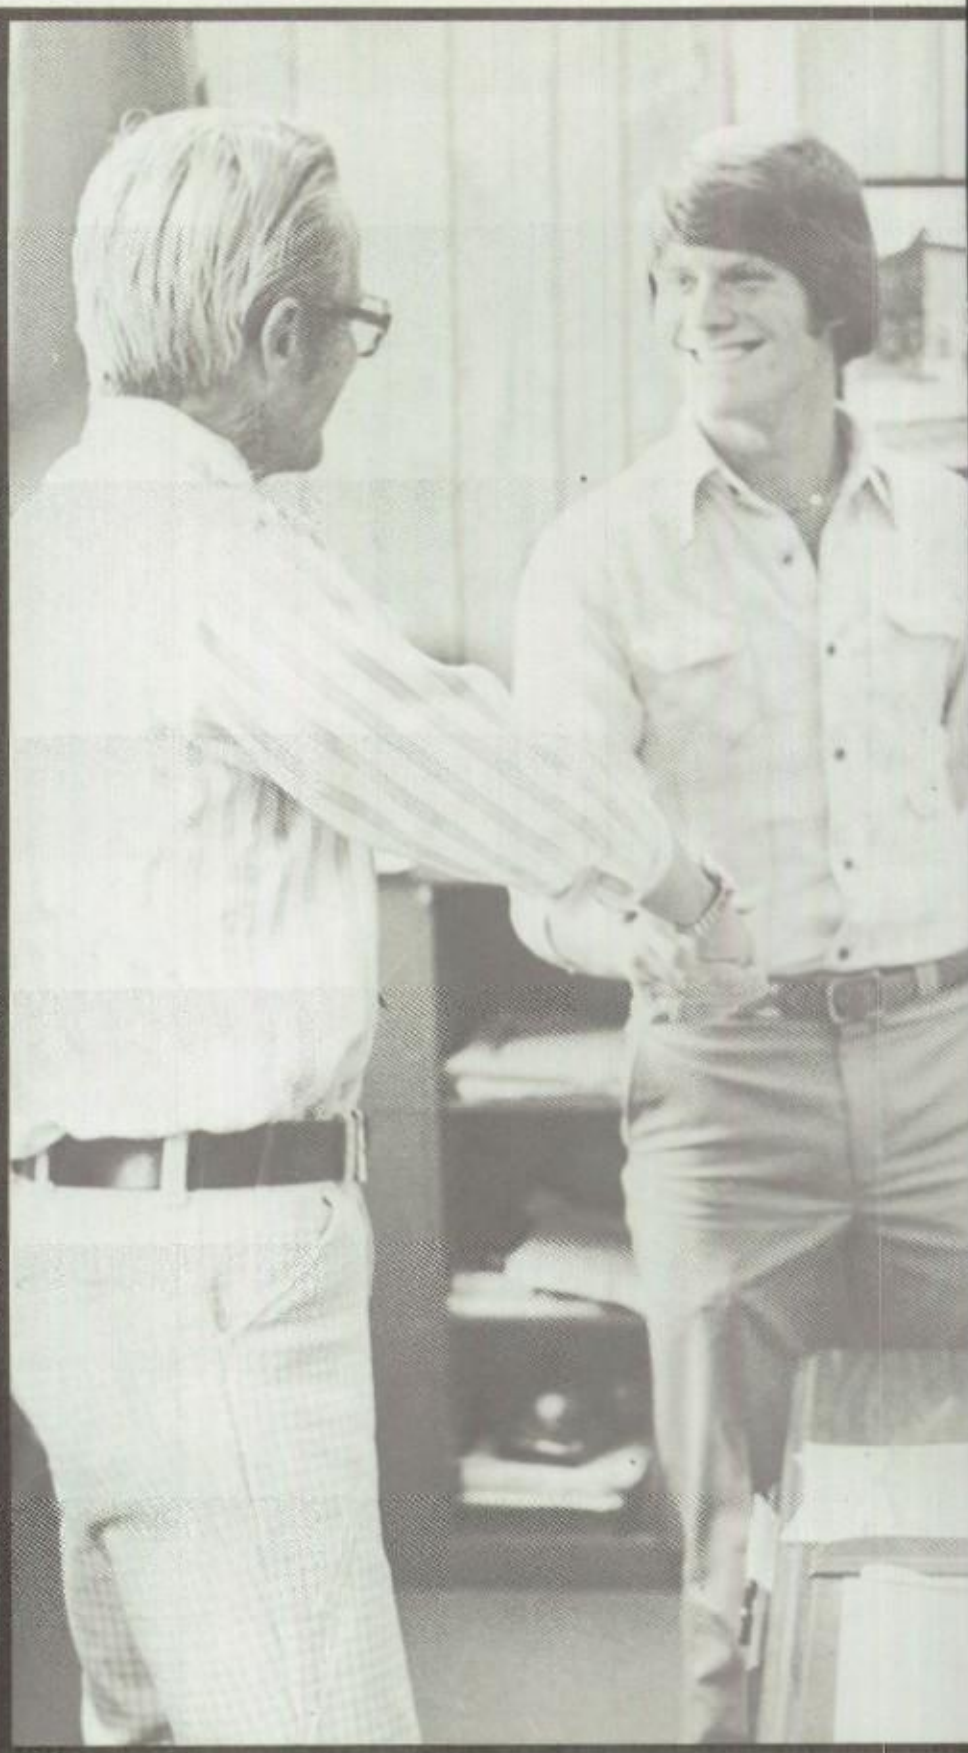

Government, sociology, psychology, and economics classes challenged seniors as they tried to understand American society.

TATTLER staffer junior Gene Miller works on TATTLER copy.

Senior Jay Erickson shakes hands with Mayor Eugene Monahan on Good Government Day.

CLUBS add

Art and Photography clubbers play football at their annual picnic.

Brightening up their day and adding a little life to the daily grind, LHS students joined one or more of 21 clubs, plays, and musical groups. Whether their interests laid in foreign languages, journalism, art, science, vocational, studies, or clinging to a high "G", something was offered for everyone.

Being involved took time and effort, but the rewards could be endless. New friends, better understanding, a sense of leadership and belonging, and most of all, good times added a little life to LHS.

Danda,

Thanks for being a good student director and pulling up with the actors. Good Luck in the future and see you this summer maybe.

Carla Robinson

HCC, Key Club serve Logan Community

"We are an active club, every month we either go somewhere or have a speaker," said Mrs. Judybeth Smith, HCC sponsor. The club tried to perform any community service function that people asked of them.

The group toured Dr. Hall's office and received information about possible medical careers. Mrs. Flo Edson gave a program on the local bloodmobile program, and a representative from El-Tip-Wa spoke on health occupational training.

This year the club again sold key chains to raise money for a field trip to the Museum of Science and Industry.

Each month club members made door decorations for the patients at Chase Center. During the monthly visits to Chase Center, HCC members read poems and wrote letters for the patients. On one special visit, the members gave a style show, modeling their favorite outfits.

Each week two Key Club members attended the local Kiwanis luncheon. The Logansport Key Club helped the the Kiwanis by selling Cokes for their travel log series.

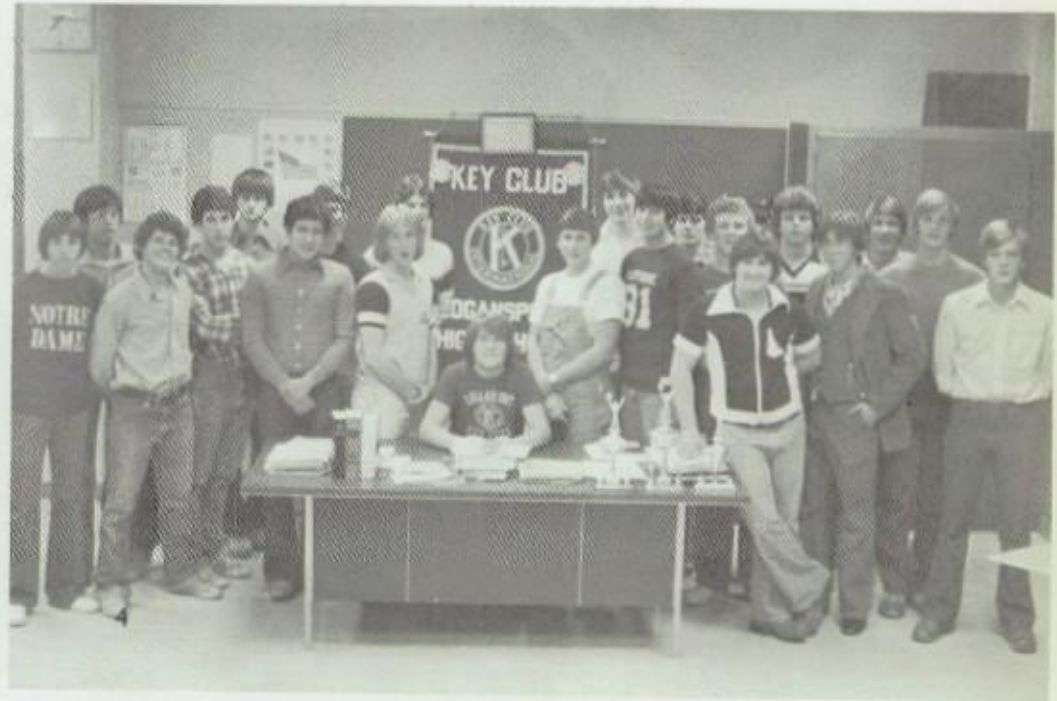

The Key Club held a paper drive to help raise money for the year's activities. At Christmas, the Key clubbers went to Woodlawn Center and Fairview West and gave Christmas parties for the children.

In the spring, the club again sponsored the annual high school Good Government Day activities.

NFL, DECA, OEA prepare members for careers

Dragging themselves out of bed in the early Saturday morning hours, speech team members journeyed to various parts of the state in hopes of bringing home ribbons and trophies. The National Forensic League gave students a chance to better their speaking abilities through competition, while letting them meet new people at the same time.

Starting the year off with a first place victory at the meet hosted by LHS, the speech team attended ten other meets throughout the year. Along with the regular meets, members often performed for speakers bureaus and gave programs for various local clubs.

Logan's NFL welcomed Miss Barbara Shaw as assistant coach. Shaw assisted veteran coach Mr. B J Siefert.

Trying to promote job training and skills, DECA students were given first-hand experience as they rushed off to various jobs after third period. Some students worked in restaurants while others spent their time in department stores.

DECA students helped the community by distributing Thanksgiving baskets to needy families and shut-ins and by giving Christmas baskets to small children.

Learning how things operated in the business world, OEA students spent two periods a day in a classroom which functioned like an office. Given a chance to learn all the aspects of office life, a student could work as a receptionist, as a duplicating or supplies manager, or as Mrs. Phyllis Johnson's personal secretary.

Council, art, photo add to community life.

In charge of the Homecoming activities, the Student Council brought back the rivalry of the Powder Puff football game in which junior and senior girls battled it out against each other. Adding to their list of activities, the council again sponsored the Winter Fantasy.

Christmas proved to be a busy time as members painted the school windows and held a food drive for needy families. Student Council members also organized the annual Challenge Bowl which gave students a chance to use their brain power.

Under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Guckien, Mr. Cecil Mason, and Mr. John Marocco, 59 students made up the council.

The Art and Photo clubs combined in the fall for their annual picnic. Art Club members painted downtown merchant's windows for Homecoming. The club then held a contest to decide who had the best design.

Other programs for the year included a Christmas party at the County Home and a pottery demonstration by Mr. Jim Klaiber.

1. Art Club. Front row: Mrs. Opal Lehnus, Wendy Wolf, president; Dean Hensel, Liz Hileman, Pam Williams, Louise Stewart. Second row: Daryl Hensel, Cheri Maxson, Janie Brandt, Kelly Hathaway, Maria Canales, Paula Prentice. Back row: Karen Hosler, Regina Prentice, Annette Branstetter, Lisa Cook, Tina Rush. 2. Council President, Kevin Haines, encourages students to contribute to the Food Drive.

Foreign language students travel to Europe

"Who can eat the most sauerkraut?" After sampling unique German dishes, German Club members indulged themselves in the first sauerkraut-eating contest at the Oktoberfest. A soccer game held in fall provided a chance for members to prove their athletic skill. Another highlight of the year was the Faschingsball where members dressed in various costumes and learned German dances.

A bonfire held at Karen Swartzell's home started off a long list of activities for French Club. They again sponsored the Tasting Party which featured many French Pastries and delicacies. Members sang carols and gave ornaments to the residents at a Christmas party held at Chase Manor. In the spring the club journeyed to an out of town restaurant for their annual banquet.

Following the Spanish tradition, Spanish Club held their Christmas party which featured a pinata and other Spanish customs. In October the club held a dinner at a local restaurant which specialized in Mexican food and in the spring they held their banquet.

Dressed in togas, Latin Club members sat on the floor and feasted on Roman dishes. As a money-making project, the club held a bake sale in the spring.

Giving students the opportunity to learn more about a country's customs, members of both German and French Clubs traveled through Europe.

Drama CLub, Thespians promote theatre at LHS

Logansport Thespian Society, an honorary and service organization, worked to advance the theatre arts at LHS.

The organization initiated 34 new members in the McHale Auditorium on December 6, 1978. President Scott Moon said that the club wanted to take a trip to either Chicago or Indianapolis. They also planned to sponsor a dance in the scene shop in March.

Thespian Society and Drama Club

co-sponsored the middle play, "Flowers For Algernon." A member from Drama Club and Thespians served as the co-chairman for the middle play committees.

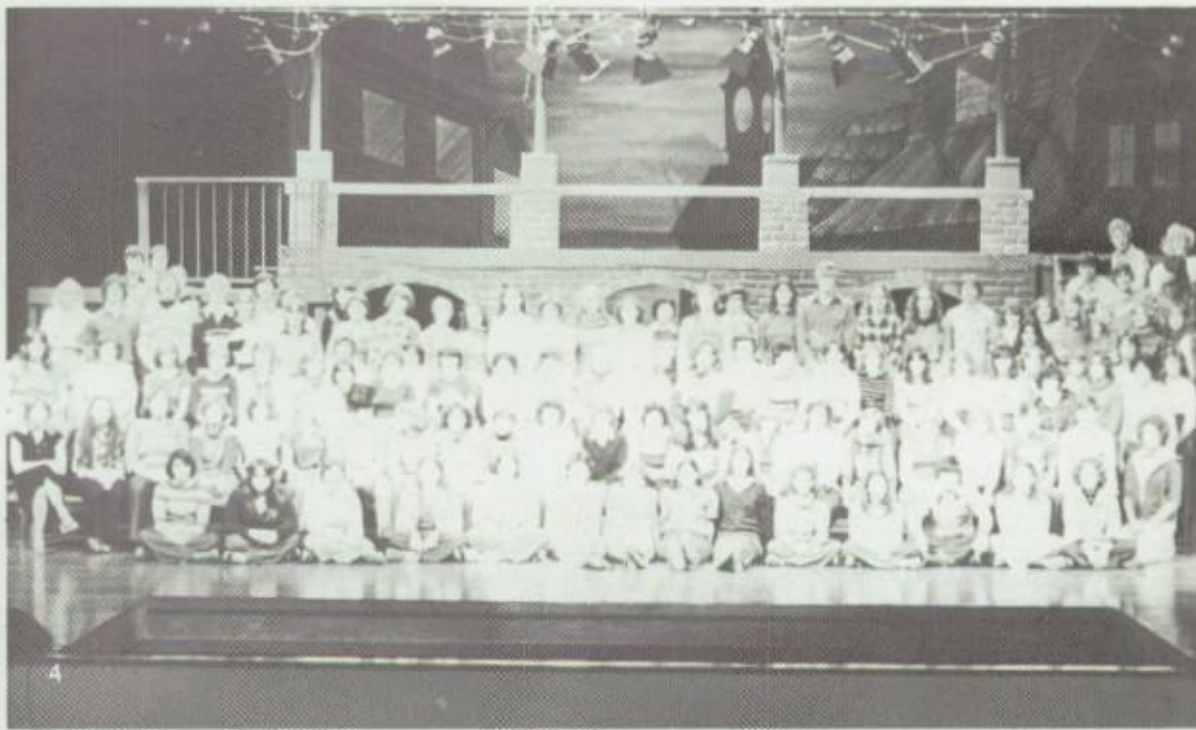

On December 14, Drama club held a Christmas party at Jean Snider's home. This year's drama club officers, Steve Flory, president; Alice Wolfe, vice-president; Julie D'Andrea, secretary; Leesa Plotner, treasurer; and Jean Snider, historian, worked to improve theater at LHS.

1. Accompanied by senior Carol Cahalan, senior Lou Guckien gives her dance interpretation of Sun Rise, Sun Set. 2. Following the initiation ceremony, senior Tracy Doles signs the Thespian Charter. 3. Junior Anita Grimes helps serve refreshments after the Thespian initiation. 5. The 1978 Drama Club. 6. Thespian Society — Front row: Scott Moon, president; Lori Davidosn, vice-president; Kathleen Hollibaugh, secretary; Theresa Jamison, historian; Keith Delaplane. Row 2: Carol Cahalan; Mrs. Tricia Siefert; Mark Albright; Cathy Weaver, points keeper; Greg Elvers. Back Row: Karen Swartzell; Dave Hardy; Lou Guckien, Leesa Plotner, treasurer; Mike Binney; Chris Copeland.

OLIVER 1978

1. Nancy argues with Sykes over who will go to find Oliver. 2. Fagin contemplates what will happen to him in his old age. 3. Oliver asks, "Where is love?" 4. The cast and crews of Oliver. 5. The Artful Dodger and Oliver attempt to sneak up behind Mr. Brownlow to pick his pocket.

Oliver features female lead

Winter Fantasy Director, Mrs. Pat Siefert, faced a real challenge in casting the lead of the 1978 Winter Fantasy. The part of Oliver required the portrayal of a thirteen year old boy soprano. Mrs. Siefert cast senior Carol Cahalan as Oliver.

The show also featured junior Erick Storckman as Fagin, and seniors

Leesa Plotner and Keith Delaplane as Nancy and Sykes.

Winter Fantasy brought an added feature this year. Tom Beall, a senior artist from Chicago, designed the sets for the production. Mr. Ken Fraza, auditorium manager, met Beall this summer through a former professor. Mr. Fraza said, "I felt that Tom would fit in well at LHS because he was young and worked well with kids."

Mrs. Siefert directed the show with assistance from Miss Janie Horning, vocal director; Mrs. Pat Buchanan, choreographer; Mr. Charles Hobbs, pit band director; and Mr. Fraza, technical director.

Algernon begins new era

Depicting the story of Charlie Gordon, a mentally retarded man who turns intelligent after an operation, Flowers for Algernon touched upon a very delicate subject never before presented in LHS theatre. The play let people see some of the problems and emotions that mentally retarded people face.

Consisting of various platforms, the sets added a unique dimension to the play. The platforms, set at different levels and painted entirely black, resembled a maze and showed the ups and downs a person encounters in life.

Presented February 15, 16, and 17, Drama Club and Thespians again sponsored the middle play.

My Fair Lady debuts at LHS

Combining for one last time, the senior class presented "My Fair Lady" on May 10, 11, and 12.

Revolving around Eliza Doolittle (Kathleen Hollibaugh), the play told of the transformation of a poor Cockney flower girl into an enchanting young woman. With the help of a snobbish English professor, Henry Higgins (Keith Delaplane), Eliza achieves her goal. Eliza and Higgins then fall in love to further complicate matters.

Mrs. Pat Siefert directed the play, Mrs. Pat Buchanan choreographed the dancers, Miss Janie Hornung again worked with the vocalists, and Mr. Robert Shovlin directed the pit band.

Wanda, you are a very special person! You have been a great help as a teacher's assistant. Congratulations on receiving your Academy Award for Best Student Director. Please work hard and reach your goals for college. Keep in touch. "Oliver" My Fair Lady Room 2136 will always be remembered and so will Wanda Slusser because you were so much apart of this success. With love, Jack

120 Club aids Mrs. Billman

Math Club, an honorary organization, required that members be in at least their fifth semester of math with a B average and with a B average overall. During the year the club heard talks about different occupational fields in mathematics. Mr. Wes Henry gave a presentation on the possibilities of careers in engineering. Special activities included playing calculator games and looking at Christmas scenes that Mrs. Daniel printed from a computer.

This year fourteen girls gave up their study halls to help Mrs. Billman in the library. Student librarian's responsibilities included putting books away, running the magazine room, checking out books, and decorating the library display cases.

Trying to bring up the membership of science club became the main goal of the club said president Lori Davidson. Sponsor Mr. Phil Starkey gave a demonstration using fluorescent and black lights. At other meeting the club watched various film strips dealing with science.

Future Teachers of America tried to help prepare students who wanted to become teachers for college and the job market. For Christmas the club planned to carol at Chase Center.

Wanda,
We have had some really good times during 78-79, haven't we. I hope that you will try & remember some of them, but not all.
I hope to see you sometime this summer, between shifts maybe.
I wish you all the luck in the world from Vincennes.

Several band members attended camp during the summer. Senior Chris Copeland and junior Beth Kesling traveled with different bands throughout Europe during the summer.

At Christmas-time the orchestra participated in the music department's first annual program. The band played to a full house in the McHale Auditorium. The orchestra also planned to present a concert sometime in February.

While other LHS students stayed around the house during Christmas vacation, the jazz band and Berryettes prepared to perform a half time show at a Purdue home basketball game.

Two special LHS bands, the Rube and Rouge bands, played Christmas carols in the main hall before school the week before vacation.

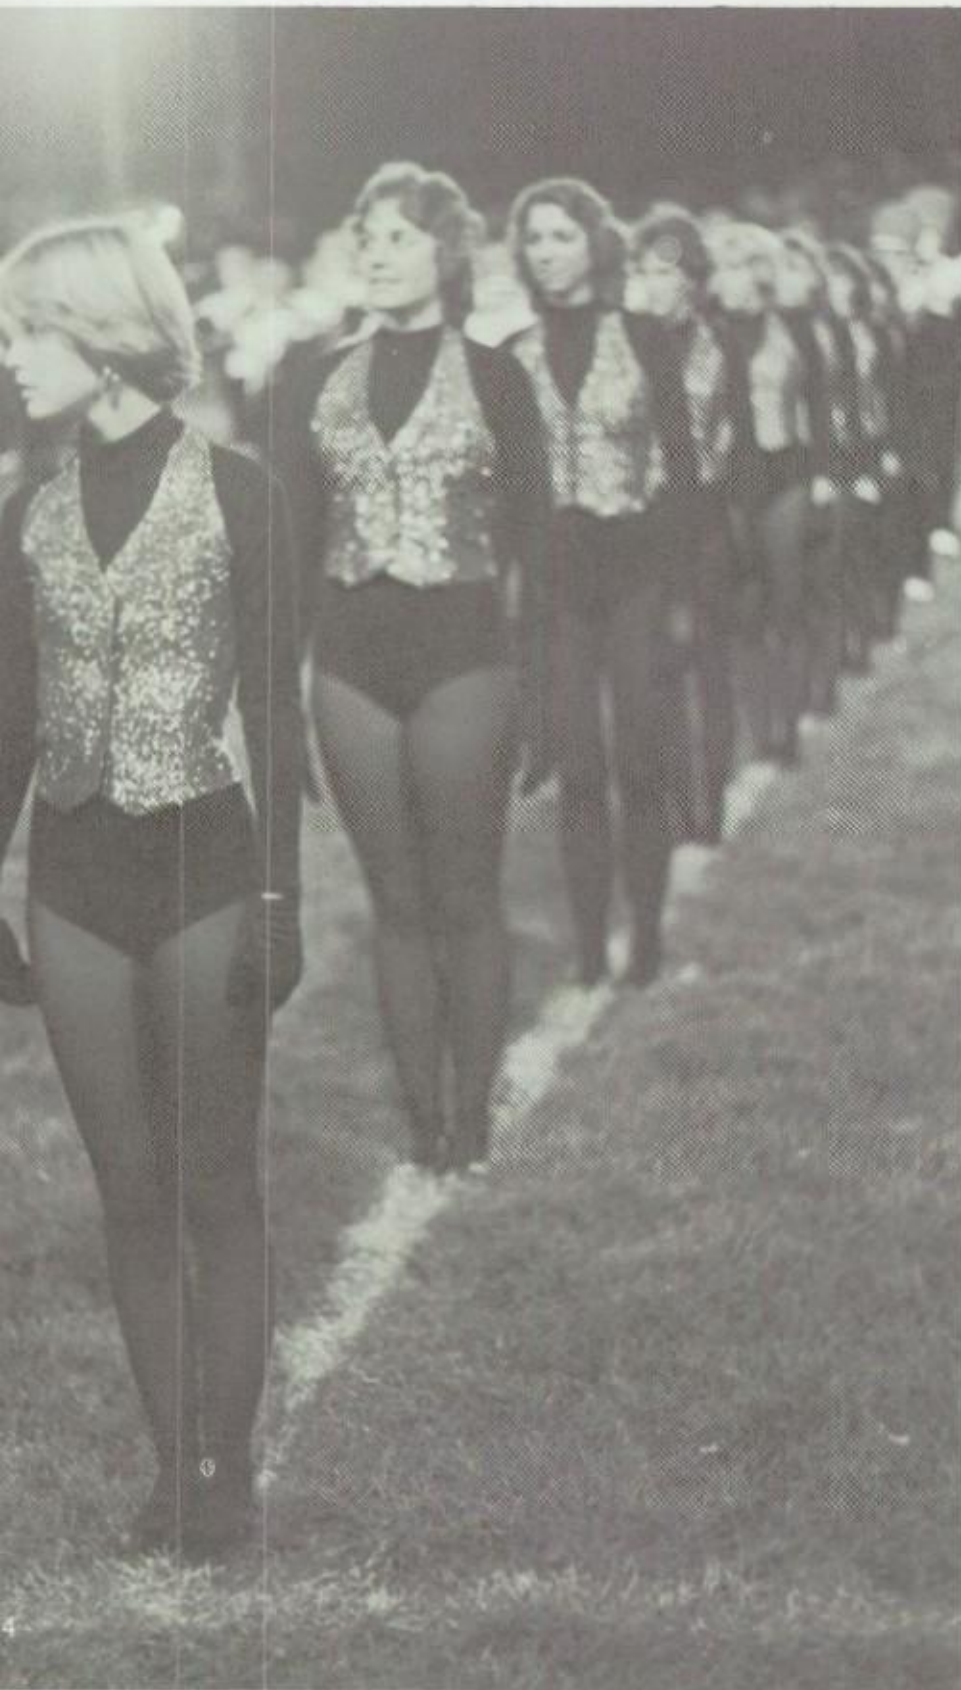

The Marching Berry Band continued to display school spirit at all of the home basketball games dressed in red and black and playing Logansport High School's fight song.

choirs present McHale concerts

Logansport High School's choir practiced fifth period to get ready for the many performances that it gave. Throughout the year, the choir visited the nine elementary schools, the three middle schools, and the Caston Educational Center. Besides performing for these area schools, the choir performed for other area service organizations.

The choir also participated in the music department's Christmas program in early December and in the Tag Day activities.

Swing Choir, a group of select choir members, gave between forty and fifty performances during the school year. The group practiced three days a week and, during some weeks, every day.

This year the Freshman Choir, Berrytones, and Girls' Madrigals gave two performances to Logansport kindergartners through third grade students. The program included several students and special effects utilizing lights, slides, and the skrim. The Madrigals sang a Jungle Bell Travelogue while dressed to represent different countries.

The groups gave a special spring concert on March 11 in the McHale Auditorium and also participated in the Hour of Music.

Tattler, Magpie get new look

Trying to produce a better yearbook, the Tattler staff spent their third and fourth periods drawing layouts, writing copy, and printing pictures. Adviser Mark Shoup reduced the size of the staff this year and combined the business staff with the editorial staff.

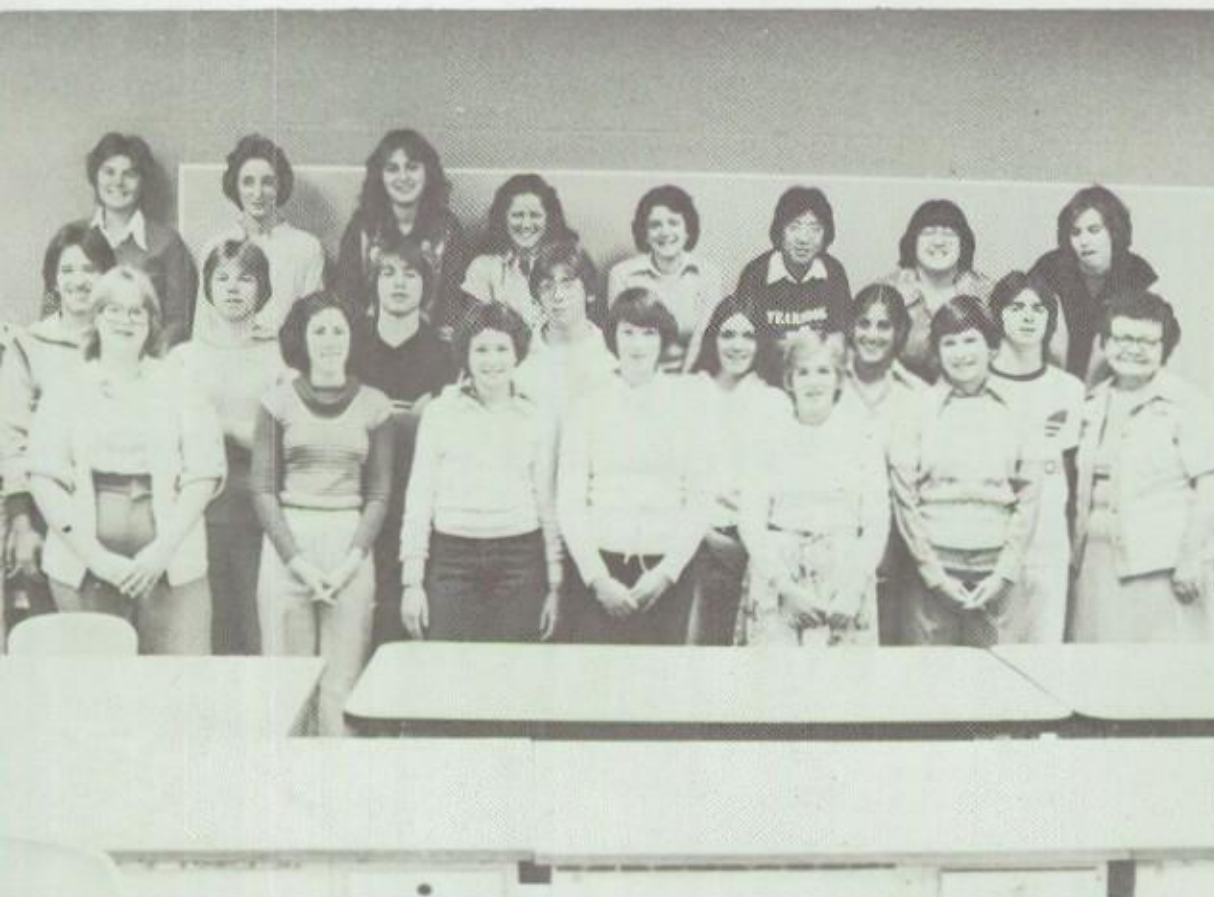

As they struggled to meet their rapidly approaching deadlines, hurry, worry, and headaches became very common. Week-ends and evenings provided more time for staffers to complete their pages.

Editor Patty Finley worked along with the section editors while Mr. Dale Sullivan advised the photographers. Mrs. Opal Lehnus again assisted with the art work.

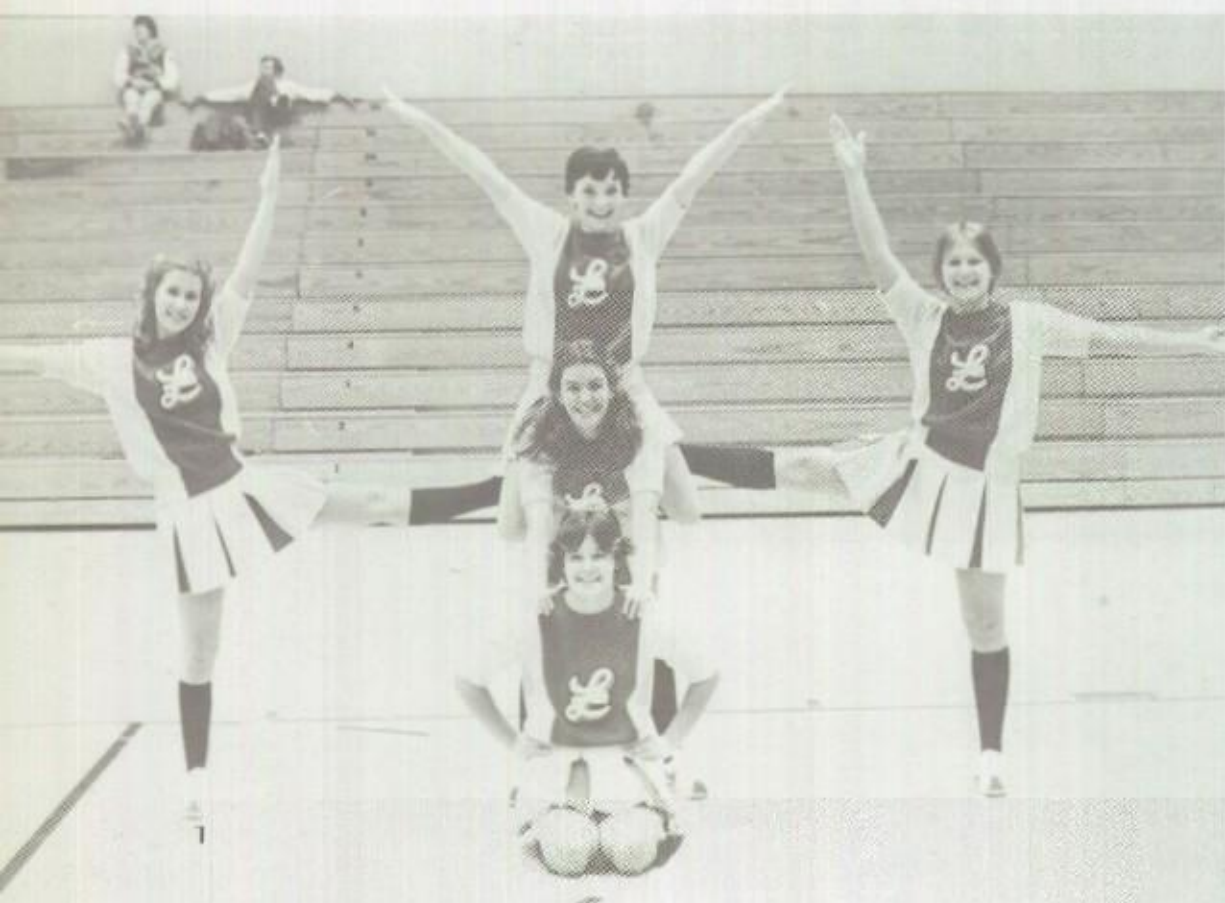

Publishing a school newspaper did not always prove to be an easy task. Distributing the paper every three weeks, thirty students worked along with editor Kevin Haines to produce the Magpie.

Staff members submitted articles about everything from school spirit to sports reports in hopes of getting their stories printed. The Magpie again sponsored the annual Christmas contest which gave a chance for LHS writers and artists to show their talent. Senior Lori Davidson captured first prize in the drawing division, while sophomore Brad Platt won top honors in poetry and junior Deb Rusk received first prize in the short story competition.

Cheerleaders improve gymnastic skills

Cheerleaders practiced sixth period and after school to help cheer at Berry athletic events. Logan's varsity squad attended a cheerleading camp at Vincennes University during the summer. They earned several awards during the week; two excellent ribbons, three superior ribbons, the spirit stick, and a Superstar Squad Award.

Cheerleaders met certain requirements such as passing grades in four solid subjects and obeyed rules established by sponsor, Mrs. Pam Easley.

The girls followed the rules of going to practice, being on time, and going to the games. If a cheerleader received too many demerits, she received a one game suspension.

Mrs. Easley helped the cheerleaders with gymnastics and motions. She also offered helpful criticisms of their routines.

During Homecoming week, Pep Club members painted signs for each football player's home. For each home football and basketball game, the club members made a victory hoop for the players to run through at the start of the game.

This year seven LHS guys worked to motivate school spirit. Jay Erickson, Steve Erickson, Kevin Knight, Keith London, Dale Neubaum, Todd Sweeney, and Bruce Vernon led the student section in cheers and helped the varsity cheerleaders build pyramids.

Different people at LHS blended together to offer new concepts and ideas. Just think how boring it would have been if everyone had had the same opinions. Students found that after a hard day at school or in a time of trouble they needed friends that they could count on. As they took pride in themselves, they cared and supported each other and added life to LHS.

Class of '79 looks to the future

On May 26th. the 359 members of the Class of '79 received their diplomas from LHS. From the Senior Breakfast at Al's Uncle to the addressing of graduation announcements, the Seniors prepared to face future decisions.

The Prom, "My Fair Lady", college visitations, and for some, Spring Break vacations in Florida, highlighted the year.

Although many seniors plotted the days left until graduation, others felt the reluctance of leaving LHS friends and experiences behind.

LHS again runs smoothly

Mr. Leeman, the counselors, the Deans, and individual teachers worked throughout the school year to help school run smoothly for all LHS students.

Logansport welcomed three new teachers in August. Miss Barbara Shaw, English and speech teacher; Mr. Kent Alder, social studies; and Mr. Ken Peters, math; joined the veteran LHS staff. Miss Shaw also coached the speech team and sponsored the freshmen cheerleaders, while Mr. Alder coached freshman basketball.

Dr. Ted Hughes, Dr. Charles Dilg, and Dr. Randall Mauck capably led the entire Logansport School Corporation again this year. The Logansport Administration handled a variety of issues.

1. School Board. Mr. Dan Laymon, Dr. Ted Hughes, Mr. Mike Muelhausen, Mr. Mike Jordan, Mr. Jerry Gibson, Mr. J.T. Hillis, Mr. Charles Azbell. 2. Superintendents. Dr. Randall Mauck, Dr. Ted Hughes, Dr. Charles Dilg. 3. Mr. Hugh Leeman, principal, and Mr. Richard Rothgeb serve LHS well.

LHS personnel offer "helping hand"

Hard work, enthusiasm, and friendliness best described Logan High's secretaries. Typing, mimeographing, answering the phone, collecting money and papers, and endless other tasks kept all of the secretaries busy during the year.

LHS's cafeteria continued to serve students and faculty nutritious meals. Type A plate lunches and the Ala Carte lunches again were offered by the cafeteria personnel.

Working both inside and outside of the building, the custodial staff kept things looking good at #1 Berry Lane.

4. Custodians. Front row: Sid Bixler, Nina James, Tom Howell, Bill Goodman. Second row: Glenn Adair, Dave Stuart, Paul James, Bill Chapman. 5. Secretaries. Mrs. Pat Grant, main office; Mrs. Lois Myers, bookstore; Mrs. Martha Mae McLochlin, Library and AV; Mrs. Ruth Herron, Dean's Office; Mr. Ruth Hopper, McHale; Mrs. Margot Sherman, main office; Mrs. Linda Jackson, Guidance Office; Mrs. Nancy Brandt, receptionist; and Mrs. Priscilla Johnson, Athletic Director's Office. 6. Cafeteria staff. Front row: Betty Puzzela, Margaret Hart, Darlene Schreckenghaust, Dee Bender, Shelby Appleton, Wilma Morehead, Sue DeHaven, Dean Parret, Margaret Hunter. Second row: Beverly Duddy, Lena Mordenti, Hattie Dunn, Mary Kumler, Virginia Ricci, Dora Peterson, Garnette Neuman, Sheila Hines, Margaret Willinson, Joan Davidson, Eleanor Peattie, Mary Klotz. add life to...

ENGLISH BOT IT WASN'T

LHS students held jobs in the various businesses throughout Logansport. Their jobs included everything from clerks in local clothing stores to sack boys in the corner grocery store. This provided them with some extra money for movies on Friday or Saturday nights or savings for future plans. By employing LHS students, retailers have added life to LHS.

LHS and friends add life to Logansport

To add life to Logansport High School, students and faculty members organized spirit committees. An Executive Committee, headed by Mr. Leeman, coordinated all of the committees' activities.

The Magpie staff and the Student Council re-instituted Operation R.O.C.K., Rebirth of Championship Kids, and tried to instill spirit in the minds of LHS students and staff by having Crazy Hat Day, Rolled Up Jeans and Crazy Socks Day, and by having pep sessions before the Marion and Anderson basketball games.

The Student Council sponsored the Food Drive at Christmas time. The baskets were distributed throughout the community by the local Salvation Army Chapter. LHS's Drama Club continued with its annual benefit shows presented to the residents of the County Home, State Hospital, Camelot Care Center, and other special organizations. In these ways, and others, LHS added life to the Logansport community.

The Logansport Schools added life to each of us by declaring that there would be no snow days during the school year.

The 1979 Tattler staff would like to express special thanks to the following people who have contributed their help during the year: Dan Blom and Dave Kinder of the Pharos-Tribune and sophomore Curt Maxson for his artwork in the academics section.

We would also like to thank Mr. Jim Crosland, our American Yearbook Company in-plant consultant; and Mr. Jim Beckham, our first-year representative.

But most of all, the 1979 Tattler staff thanks the students, faculty, and staff, and friends of Logansport High School. Together, we added life to LHS.

1. Wearing a hat covered with Berry buttons, sophomore Tom Cahalan uses his trombone as a means of encouraging Berry spirit.
2. Sophomore Scott Troglen always seems to ride above the crowd when it comes to cheerin the Berries.
3. Senior Todd Sweeney, freshman Bob Buchanun and senior Bruce Vernon watch the girls tackle on the football field during the Powder-Puff football game.
4. Several Berry fans show their enthusiasm after a touchdown at a Homecoming game.
5. LHS teachers got into the Christmas spirit by caroling through the halls one morning.
6. Freshman Theresa Stout gets down to business in Miss Ruschkofski's Biology class.
7. Prior to the running of the 500 race at the Indy Mini Marathon, senior Dave Smith, junior Matt Foreman, and senior Steve Simms drink some Gatorade to cool themselves off.

American Yearbook Company in Clarksville, Tennessee printed the approximately 1300 copies of the 1979 Tattler. The 192 pages are printed on full paper. Headlines, body copy, and captions are printed in Souvenir Bold type. The cover of the 1979 Tattler is true life, custom screened printed in Jamaica Red and white. The book has Smyth sewn binding with an 8 1/2 x 11" trim size. The cover, endsheets, and division pages were designed by Patty Finley.

*Wanda,
Good luck next year in all you do - You did a super job in getting it as during the sleep!*

Friends Always,

Wesley L. Abbott

*I'm glad to have worked with you -
I hope the best for you! E. Kinder "Land"*

Dear Wanda,
 I was a student of your dear friend at the Memorial Hospital. I was a very close friend. Remember all the good old times at the Memorial Hospital.
 Good luck to you always.
 Love,
 Jim B.

Wanda,
 I wish only the best for you. Take care of that sweet "granny" of yours & have one fantastic summer.
 Congratulations!
 Love,
 Cathi Robinson

Wanda,
 No more school.
 What fun computer science was.
 Didn't drive you crazy when you wanted her to answer a question and she wouldn't.
 Good luck.
 Love,

Wanda,
 so a real nice girl
 that I'm really glad I got to meet. I remember all the fun times in homeroom with Mr. Turner. Good luck in everything you do. I hope to see you sometime in the future.
 Love,
 Dana Sprinkle

Wanda
 You did a lot to help on the play
 and made them a success.
 Good Luck
 Steve Flay

Wanda,
 I've been two summers
 in the play school and working with you
 all you do.
 Love,

Overall, I had a lot of fun. I hope you had a good summer. I hope you had a good time.
 Love,
 [Signature]

Wanda,
 to a real nice girl who I have been friends with the years of high school, good luck in the future and with the lucky guy.
 Good luck
 Kathy Williams

BEST WISHES
 AND GOOD LUCK
 IN YOUR TO COME
 Jon Kendall

I'm really glad we got to know each other this year.
 I hope you never forget all the fun + loving times we had in our science class, Brown-ment + Photography. We had a lot of fun working with the play - "My Fair Lady."
 Good luck in everything you do. I hope you get everything you want. Good luck.
 Jan Kuyke

Wanda,
 Well this class is over for the best. I hope your Government
 notes stay with you for there are plenty. Best of luck
 T. J.
 Shaffer

Wanda
 Thanks for being the really nice person that you are.
 It's good to know there are a few sweet people left. (like you + me) Seriously, you're super + don't ever let anyone try to make you be something your not.
 Be your own person + stick up for yourself. Thanks for the gum
 Love ya
 Sue
 Campbell
 it'll be fine

Wanda,
 I hope you have a great time in college.
 Good luck
 & have fun in your new home!
 Love
 Mom + Dad

Wanda,
 Thanks for being yourself.
 As people are these days.
 Good luck.

WANDA,
BEST WISHES
LOVE
M. MAUDELL

Wanda,
Well we finally made it! We had some fun times at work. I never really had you in any of my classes at all
I don't think!
Good luck!
Karen
Miller

Wanda,
Well we finally made. We've sure had fun in all the plays.
They are sweet as you are! Wish you the best of luck in all your future years
Take care
Jan. Gracalente

Wanda,
It's been four years since we first met and I must say that I'm glad we met. You've got a good future. Good Luck.

WANDA,
TO SOMEONE WHO'S ABOUT A WIZ AND A HALF IN DECIDING! IT'S BEEN HAVING YOU IN MY CLOTHING CLASS, GOOD LUCK AND TAKE CARE!

Wanda,
Isn't Mr. Roberts
bare? No, he really wasn't that bad, he just acted bad. Good luck in the future

Wanda-
I'm honored to be the 1st one to sign under the plaque! Thanks for all the help you've given me this year - came back & visit us next year. Miss Hannah
